

President To Use Influence To Avert Railroad Strike

MEDIATION FAILS; DEADLOCK EXISTS

Washington, August 12.—President Wilson sent word today to the mediators attempting to settle the threatened railroad strike, that he would like to consult with representatives of both sides before there is a break.

The president was in communication by telephone with the federal mediators, and asked that he be informed if a strike became imminent.

The president informed the mediators that a strike must be avoided and that if a deadlock was reached he would like an opportunity to talk to the representatives of the railroad managers and employees.

New York, August 12.—Whether a nation wide railroad strike is to be called or prevented, still hung in the balance today after the United States Board of Mediation and Conciliation, announcing that mediation had failed, made an effort to induce the railroad brotherhoods to arbitrate their differences with the railroad managers.

The brotherhoods, after discussing an arbitration proposal, made to them by the board under the Newlands act, adjourned without reaching a decision. They announced that an answer would be given tomorrow morning at another meeting of the chiefs and delegates of the brotherhoods.

A. B. Garretson, head of the Conductors' Brotherhood, indicated that the arbitration proposal was a general one and that the men were withholding final decision to learn if the railroads cared to be specific.

Mr. Garretson described as "premature" a statement made by a delegate who left the meeting before it adjourned that the men had rejected the arbitration proposal and voted to lay the situation before President Wilson. He said, however, that the sentiment of the men was still opposed to arbitration.

The fact, however, that the men delayed their decision in the matter gave rise to hope that they might finally recede from their attitude.

MILK STRIKE IS SERIOUS

Cleveland, O., August 12.—Cleveland's milk wagon drivers' strike grew more serious today when strike leaders announced that they would attempt to prevent the sale of milk at distributing stations and would try to shut off sales of every kind except for babies and invalids.

Yesterday the distributing stations were allowed to sell to all who applied without interference. The addition of the drivers of the Schneider-Becker Company—to those of the Teulings-Belle Vernon Company last night left 150,000 more Clevelanders without milk today, making a total of 450,000, or sixty per cent of the city, affected. So far there has been little violence. State Mediator George H. Miles, and federal mediators are trying to get the drivers to arbitrate but have failed so far.

ITALIAN SHIP SUNK

London, August 12.—The Italian steamship St. Sebastian has been sunk.

The Young Lady Across the Way

The young lady across the way was the one who saw in the paper that the Federal team enjoyed an old-fashioned swiftest yesterday and she supposed a little social diversion, occasionally is a good thing for the players.

Robbers Get Pearl Necklace Bought With Steel Winnings

MISS ANN G. BARNITZ

New York.—Today Miss Ann G. Barnitz, a popular Brooklyn girl, is mourning the loss of a $10,000 pearl necklace, which she recently purchased with her winnings in steel stock.

The necklace was stolen from Miss Barnitz's room while on a week-end visit to Long Beach. She is making a personal canvass of New York pawn shops in an endeavor to locate the necklace, after the police failed to find any clue of it.

Philadelphia, Pa., August 12.—Four deaths from the disease and 16 new cases were reported here for the 24 hour period ending last midnight. In the state outside of Philadelphia 15 new cases were returned.

FRENCH CRUISER IN U. S. PORT

Pensacola, Fla., August 12.—The French armored cruiser Admiral Aube came into this port today with supplies and coal exhausted. She came to anchor near the Austrian steamer Lucia, tied up here since the beginning of the war.

HUGE LOAN TO ENGLAND

New York, Aug. 12.—Expectation was expressed in financial circles today that within a fortnight official announcement would be made that negotiations had been completed for a new loan, reported to be $250,000,000 to Great Britain. It is said the main object of the loan would be to pay for American munitions. Securities for this loan it is reported would include deposits of about $300,000,000 of Canadian, Argentine and Swiss government bonds and stocks and bonds of American railroads and industrial corporations.

U. S. SUPPORTS PROTESTS

London, Aug. 12.—Complaints of American shippers over the detention of consignments to The Netherlands, Overseas Trust are being supported and pressed by the American government. American claimants will decline to be bound by a clause in the British government's agreement with the trust by which Great Britain reserves the right to detain any consignment until reasonable doubt of its destination has been satisfied.

The shippers take this attitude on the ground that they are not contracting parties to such an agreement.

CONFER OVER POLAND

Amsterdam — (Via London) — August 12.—A Vienna despatch says that Emperor Francis Joseph has received the German Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg in audience. Later the emperor was closeted with the German foreign minister, Gottlieb Von Jagow.

An official communication issued at Berlin on Thursday stated that Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg and Foreign Minister Van Jagow had gone to Vienna to visit Baron Von Rajecz, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister. The purpose of the conference was stated to concern territory occupied by the central powers. Unofficial advices stated that Poland was the question at issue.

GERMANS CAPTURE DANISH STEAMER

Copenhagen, August 12.—(Via London)—The Danish steamer Storbelt, bound from New Castle, with 1,700 casks of butter, 2,000 barrels of pork and a large quantity of eggs has been captured by the Germans and taken into Swinemund, according to the Politiken.

London, Aug. 12.—Persistent efforts are being made by the Germans to stop the allied offensive on the Somme by counter-attacking both the French and British. Heavy attacks were delivered last night on the Franco-British lines but neither was successful, according to the Allies' war offices.

The French were attacked both north of the Somme, near Hem Wood and south of the river at La Maisonette, the artillery stopping both assaults. The attack on the British took place north of Pozieres. The British war office declares it was nowhere successful in penetrating the British positions and resulted in heavy losses to the Germans.

In Galicia the Russians are keeping up their impressive drive towards Lemberg from the south-east. After taking Stanislaw, General Letchitzky is pressing on toward Halicz the important railway junction to the north of the Dniester and key positions in the Lemberg defenses.

Petrograd today reports the crossing of the Koropice river by the Russians in the region north of Buchacz. This advance still further imperils the Stripsa line on the Teutons to the north of Halicz to the west. South of Stanislaw the Russians are also advancing westward in the Bystritsa river region.

Petrograd, August 12.—(Via London)—Russian troops in Galicia have crossed the river Koropice and captured two villages, it is announced today by the war office.

The villages captured are Slohukagurna and Polvarki.

"Before evacuating Stanislaw", the statement says, "the enemy blew up railway junctions and switches. Otherwise the town was quite undamaged and in perfect order."

"On the Caucasian front north of Bilibis obstinate fighting continues. In Persia, in the region of Bokana, our troops are pursuing the Turks, who are retreating hurriedly to Sakiz."

Italian Troops Are Advancing

Rome, (Via London)—August 12.—Italian troops are advancing on the Carso Plateau, the war office announced today. The Austrians are still holding out on the hills east of Gorizia.

Paris, Aug. 12.—A vigorous attack north of Hem Wood on the Somme front was undertaken last night by the Germans. The war office statement of today says the assault was checked.

London, August 12.—Stanislaw, next to Lemberg, the most important railway city in Galicia, has fallen to the Russians. General Letchitzky's army which has been hammering at the city's gates for more than a week, taking one fortified barrier after another, captured this objective yesterday in a swift dash across the river Zarnina-Dyslitzia. The city's fall was officially announced by Petrograd last night and is admitted by the Austrian war office, which, in its statement last night says: "We evacuated Stanislaw without a fight."

OHIO AND KENTUCKY TROOPS ORDERED TO THE BORDER

INCLUDES M'ADOO IN CHARGES

Helena, Mont., August 12.—Charles E. Hughes continuing his attacks on the administration for its appointments, today charged Secretary McAdoo, "upon reliable information" with having replaced Henry N. Capp, formerly confidential secretary to John G. Carlisle, with Daniel E. Finn, son of "Battery Dan" Finn, a Tammany leader, as assistant appraiser of merchandise at New York.

Some months after Clapp was "put out of the service" Mr. Hughes said, "through fear of criticism on the part of the department, he was made an examiner in the customs service, a much lower position than he held before and at a much lower compensation."

"Mr. Clapp had served twenty-five years in the treasury department from a clerkship in the treasury department at Washington which was obtained through competitive examination; to the position of assistant appraiser of merchandise in New York."

(BULLETIN)

Washington, D. C., August 12.—Twenty-five thousand more troops today were ordered to the border by the war department. All Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont troops were ordered to move and all departmental commanders were instructed to send troops as soon as equipped.

The following announcement was made:

"Commanding General, Eastern Department, has been directed to send Kentucky troops to the border as soon as they have been equipped and transportation can be obtained and to see that special attention is given to get Vermont troops to the border as soon as possible."

"Commanding General of the Central Department has been directed to send Ohio troops to the border as soon as they are equipped and transportation can be obtained."

"All department commanders have been directed to send all other national guard troops in their respective departments to the border as soon as they are equipped and transportation can be obtained."

It was stated at the war department that under these orders national guard regiments now held at state mobilization points would be sent to the border without waiting until they were recruited to the mobilized strength.

Order Given To Relieve Men

War department officials said the purpose of the movement was to relieve the trying situation of regiments held at state mobilization camps during recruiting. The men have been several weeks under canvas while a few recruits necessary to bring each regiment up to required minimum strength, are being sought.

In many cases, notably in Ohio where six regiments have been within a score of the number necessary to permit them to go to the border, in Kentucky, and Vermont where only a few additional recruits are necessary and in the District of Columbia, where a very few additional men would recruit the regiment for active service, there has been growing uneasiness and discontent among the guardsmen because of the weary weeks of waiting.

Officials expect the effect of the order will be to bring all delayed regiments to necessary strength before they start. The more favorable turns of relations with Mexico has reacted against recruiting but with regiments under definite orders, to proceed it is thought there would be no difficulty in filling up the ranks.

The best available information, on the number of guardsmen on the border is in health statistics of last week which covered 98,000 state troops on all border service.

War department officials insist that the new orders are without other significance and are not connected with the situation beyond the border.

Wilson Takes Personal Interest In Refugees

Washington, D. C., August 12.—President Wilson's personal note appealing for concessions permitting shipment of American relief supplies to Poland was delivered to President Poincare yesterday at the French battle front. American Ambassador Sharp reported today that the French president would send a personal reply. To the American envoy the French president expressed his appreciation of President Wilson's humanitarian motives.

Printers May Lose Work

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 12.—The danger that thousands of printers may be thrown out of work because of the high cost of white paper was said to be a question seriously concerning the delegates to the sixty-second convention of the International Typographical Union which begins here next Monday. The delegates began arriving in large numbers today.

The convention will hold a brief session on Monday for organization and appointments of committees. Adjournment will be taken for the remainder of the day so that the delegates and other visitors brought here by the convention may attend a crab feast arranged by the local entertainment committee for the afternoon and evening. Tuesday also will be devoted to pleasures and the delegates will not get down to actual work until Wednesday.

U-BOATS ACTIVE

Havre, Aug. 12.—Six ships were held up at once by a German submarine on Thursday morning. The commander of the submarine ordered the crew of the French steamer Marie to get into boats and then sank the vessel with bombs in view of the crews of the other ships.

The Norwegian steamers Credo and Soro were next sent to the bottom, each vessel going down in ten minutes. The other three were allowed to continue their voyages after being searched and their papers examined. The crews of the three sunken ships were picked up by the Danish steamer Robert and landed at Havre on Friday morning.

JAP BOAT SUNK

Marseilles, France, August 12.—The patrol boat B-10 landed here tonight, the crew of 46 of the Japanese steamer Tenmei Maru, which was sunk in the Mediterranean by a submarine which showed no flag. Members of the crew state the vessel was shelled without warning, and that the submarine fired on boats in which they took refuge.

Cooler Weather Predicted

Washington, D. C., August 12.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Sunday were announced today by the weather bureau as follows:

Great Lakes Region—Fair first half of week, probably followed by unsettled weather and showers after Wednesday. Moderate temperatures.

DEATH TOLL FROM PLAGUE ON INCREASE

New York, August 12.—An increase in both deaths and new cases in the epidemic of infantile paralysis is shown in today's bulletin of the health department. Forty-two children died of the disease during the 24 hour period ending at 10 o'clock this morning and 187 new cases were reported as against thirty-one deaths and 165 new cases yesterday.

Uncover Nation-Wide Plot To Steal Automobiles, Is Claimed

Cleveland, O., August 12.—David H. Hopkins, 33, attorney, and Cleveland law school instructor, and Frank (Kid) Lyons, 38, former saloon-keeper, were arrested here late last night in what police and detectives say is the exposure of a country-wide plot to steal automobiles. They say they expect to recover thousands of dollars worth of stolen cars and round-up a clever gang of thieves as a result of the arrests.

Hopkins and Lyons are charged with receiving stolen property. Hopkins is definitely accused of having received an automobile stolen from Charles Freese, Detroit, July 10, and Lyons with receiving a car stolen from A. H. Denning, Detroit, June 21. Two machines, said to be those mentioned, were recovered from Hopkins and Lyons' garages at the time the arrests were made. Officers here say they obtained clues which led to the arrest of Hopkins and Lyons as the result of the arrest in Detroit three weeks ago of four alleged automobile thieves. Recovery of fifty cars stolen recently in Detroit, Toledo and Cleveland, is hoped for, officers say.

RAID MADE ON BRITISH NAVAL BASE

London, August 12.—An air raid on the British naval port of Dover by two German seaplanes occurred this afternoon. An official statement says four bombs were dropped, one officer and six men being slightly injured, but little material damage being done.

"Two hostile seaplanes," the statement reads, "appeared over Dover this afternoon. Four bombs were dropped but no material damage was done beyond the breaking of a few windows.

"Anti-aircraft guns came into action and aeroplanes went in pursuit of the raiders, who made off seaward. The casualties were one officer and six men slightly injured."

So far I haven't heard of any one being 'frozen durin' th' present cool snap, but then I reckon th' news of it ain't all in yet. Guess may be some o' th' boys are glad now they enlisted and others that they didn't. Here's th' dope, th' continuation o' th' cool snap: Ohio—Fair in north. Showers in south portion this afternoon or tonight. Sunday probably fair with moderate temperature.

Kentucky—Showers and cooler this afternoon or tonight; Sunday generally fair.

West Virginia—Partly cloudy, possibly showers tonight and Sunday.

Keeping Yourself Well

BUILDING UP STRENGTH

After a severe illness, or sometimes without that misfortune, many people do not gain strength as they should. Often this is because the food taken is not rich and does not go to the making of rich blood.

Nature should then be aided. It will usually be the case that in the mucous membranes that line most of the body there will be areas of stagnation, with the blood engorged instead of circulating. When these are in the stomach or bowels the food remains where it might be making strength.

Peruna dispels stagnation. In these complicated invasions the digestion, tones up the body functions, overcomes all catarrhal conditions and starts the organs to working properly. After illness it is a good tonic, used by all with safety.

Liquid or tablet form—each with the same principles—whichever is more convenient, or may be used together.

Malaria is the ideal laxative. It cleans the waste from the system, tones up the liver and helps you overcome the habit of constipation. Safe, effective, liquid or tablet form—each with the same principles—whichever is more convenient, or may be used together.

Mrs. Jacob Brunner, who recently underwent an operation at the Grant hospital, Columbus, was discharged from that institution Saturday. She is expected home Saturday evening.

Two Local Men To Be At Christian Church

At the nine o'clock service of the First Christian church, Walter Bagby will teach the big adult department. As an added feature of the service, Alvera Day and Myrtle Burnside have been secured to sing a duet. The morning promises to be of profit to all who attend.

In the evening the committee has been fortunate in securing E. F. Rideout, at the head of the local Y. M. C. A., to give an address. The evening service begins at 7:30 and it is hoped that a big crowd will be on hand to greet Mr. Rideout.

Rev. Charles Oakley, pastor of the church, who is on his vacation, writes that he will have a much better time if he hears that the church activities are being kept up during his absence and urges all of the congregation to be present Sunday.

At 2nd Presbyterian

The Second Presbyterian church is expected to be filled at both the morning and evening preaching services Sunday, when a local minister, Rev. Frederick Schmitt, pastor of the Community church at Great Neck Station, N. Y., will fill the pulpit. Sunday morning Rev. Schmitt will have for his subject "The Power of the Unseen." Sunday evening's subject will be "The Standard for Measure."

NO. S. S. OR CHURCH SERVICES

There will be no Sunday school or church services at the Central Presbyterian church while the church is being renovated. It will take two weeks to complete the interior decorating.

HEAVIER DRIFT THAN FROM JOHNSTOWN

Captain G. Wright, who is in charge of the U. S. engineering boat Iroquois, which tied up here Friday evening, was held up several hours at Sciotoville Friday morning on account of the heavy drift. Captain Wright said Saturday that he had been following the river for twenty-seven years and never saw the drift as heavy as it was Friday morning. "They say the Johnstown flood drift was heavier but I don't think it was," said Captain Wright who saw the drift from that flood.

LIGHTNING HITS

During the severe electrical and rain storm Friday afternoon, lightning struck a frame alley house in the rear of the E. A. Armstrong residence, 1835 Robinson avenue, damaging it, but not setting it on fire. Part of the roof, cornice, siding and ceiling was torn loose. The gutter of the roof was raised about a foot near the corner of the house where the lightning struck.

The house, which is owned by Dr. J. D. Jordan, is occupied by Christopher Neighbors and family. Mr. Neighbors, who is a well-known plasterer, was at work and his family were not at home during the storm. Several neighbor women received a bad scare when the lightning struck.

Dr. Stewart Hits Street Car; Also Tells Story

Dr. F. M. Stewart of Sciotoville, church members riding in sleighs, met with an accident to his automobile at Gallia and Norfolk streets, East Portsmouth, Saturday morning, but fortunately escaped injury.

Dr. Stewart says he was hurrying to the county jail to dress the wounds of Ben Adkins, who is held on a charge of murdering Wilbur Nichols in Bonser's Run, Thursday. In going up the Norfolk street hill towards Gallia he was following two other automobiles which were moving at a rather good clip. A street car was going east and one going west and seeing the other two automobiles successfully pass between these he took chances of following them but failed and ran into the west-bound street car. The fender and running board of his car were broken. He himself escaped with a mere shanking up due to the excellent manner in which the motorman controlled his car for which Dr. Stewart wishes to compliment him.

Dr. Stewart likened his experience to the old man who wanted to go to heaven and took unusual chances in getting past hell. He saw an old deacon and other church members riding in sleighs. He got on the rear end of the old deacon's sleigh. It gave a sudden lurch and he fell off while the old deacon went on.

Insult Street Carnival Woman, Get Licking And A Fine Also

George Thompson and Charles and Luther Carver, a trio of young Kentuckians who are employed at New Boston, came to grief at midnight Friday after having attended the street fair. The young men were sitting on a curb at Second and Market streets awaiting a street car for New Boston when some of the carnival people, including John and Mrs. Conley came up Second street. They stopped on the corner to talk, when young Thompson and Luther Carver began making remarks about the woman, Thompson saying, "There's my girl—ain't you, kid?" Conley told his wife to walk on and he stepped up to the young men and asked them to desist in their talk to a woman whom they did not know. The trio instead became very abusive. Conley and his wife had walked on and they now started to assail Jefferson Gaffney an attache of the Athletic show at the street fair. Although a young man of rather small and frail looking stature, Gaffney proved himself quite handy with his "mils," he knocking down all three of the young men in rapid fire style. Police ended the battle.

Quite an array of witnesses were examined. Thompson's plea was that he was drunk and did not remember what happened. Charles Carver, the younger of the brothers, did not seem to have taken any part, simply happening to be with the others. Thompson and Luther Carver were fined $25 and costs each and Charles was let off with a $10 fine and turned out that he might look after his brother's team of horses. All were warned as to their future conduct when visiting in the city. Gaffney was dismissed.

Tom Cook and Tracy Newman had a rather odd battle in the Al Maier Stable on Third street, Friday judging from the stories told about it in police court.

Both men are employed with Mr. Maier. Newman had been enjoying a peaceful sleep on top of a corn box when Cook came in and lifted the lid to place a pet kitten into the box. Newman got angry and told him he was exercising too much authority around the stable. Cook said Newman got up and struck him on the arm with a beer bottle. Newman on the other hand said he tried to avoid fighting Cook because he had a bad foot which he injured some days ago, but that Cook struck him twice with a broom and also threw bottles at him. Cook, too, got a bad bruise over the eye from an ear of corn thrown at him by Newman who also grabbed him by the hair and held him while pounding him with his other hand. Cook said he did not fight whatever, but was "being fought." The court held that it was rather unlikely that a man limping around on one foot like Cook would want to fight, and so he dismissed him while Newman was fined $10.

BELL-ANS Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.

Thomas Brewer, a mill man of No. 1230 Ninth street denied reports that he had beaten up his wife Friday night though the information slip stated that he had crawled under a bed the first time officers were called, his wife not wishing him arrested, but that they had no sooner gone when neighbors called them back saying he was assaulting his wife. As Mrs. Brewer failed to appear the husband was dismissed with a warning.

Dewey Reed, of Elliott county, Ky., who had been to Lucasville, to visit a sister, and stole a ride back to Portsmouth on a freight train, was fined $5 for that offense. E. J. Carter, a steam shovel man at the W. H. Allen construction camp, was fined $10 for cursing and abusing Saloonkeeper Dennis Burns, of Third and Market streets, after he refused to sell him any more drinks and was warned to stay away.

AS TO THE DOUBLE CROSS
Politics is surely a queer game, that is the kind of politics some men play. In the campaign preceding the primary of this week it was the common talk that the liquor interests generally were behind the candidacy of Myron T. Herrick for senator. Why this should be was not so apparent, since the contestants avoided any mention of the liquor in all their numerous gabfests. However, it was assumed as the anti-saloon set up claim that it defeated Herrick for re-election as governor, it would just naturally be against him again, and, of course, it stood the liquor people to be for anybody the anti-saloon league was against. But that is right where somebody blundered, through the queerness of the game. For now comes one Rev. James A. White, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League and sets forth that the said league has Myron T. Herrick's solemn pledge and covenant that, if elected senator, he will take his orders therefrom and vote for national prohibition measures. So much was hinted by Harry M. Daugherty, when he said, that owing to certain conditions the dry element had given his opponent a support that was altogether out of the calculations of the campaign dope, but still White's claim has stirred the political camps of the state as nothing else has in many a day. At that it isn't so much of a surprise, as the politicians have taken to recalling that it was his "shiftiness", his propensity jump from one side to another, without rhyme or reason, that worked his undoing as governor. But at that the White pronouncement puts things in a pretty pickle and the liquor interests will be puzzled as to where "they are at."

So far Herrick has refused to express himself on the White statement, saying that he has not seen it and therefore he is in no position to offer comment on it and concluding vaguely as well as unsatisfactorily that he knows nothing about the matter. Which may mean he knows nothing about the statement, or any alleged pledge of his.

THE PARTY AND THE CANDIDATE
It is a most peculiar situation presented to the Prohibition party by its candidate, J. Frank Hanly. Like most minority parties, it has got the habit of running "hog wild" in its platform, in an effort to catch votes, and so declares in favor of most every governmental fad that is devised, and it is here that its candidate feels impelled to part company with it. So he announces that he repudiates its declaration in favor of the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

Mr. Hanly says he has always opposed these things, he repudiates them now and if elected and they came to him in the form of laws he would veto them. Never has he trimmed his views for political effect or office and he isn't going to do so now. That is brave and manly in him, but it makes a novel and trying situation, indeed, for the party and the men who nominated him, especially as it comes after the convention that named him and adopted the platform, has adjourned and is no longer existent. We can also say it is refreshing. And yet, we can't say so much more of a novelty than the repudiation and elaboration of his party platform by Hughes who avows his favor of federal female suffrage when his party puts the matter up to the individual states.

SOMETHING IN A NAME
Shakespeare once expressed the conviction that there was nothing in a name, putting it in the sweet conclusion that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet. But then they didn't know anything about the primary in the days of the immortal bard. Had they his keen wit it would have been quickly decided that to an office-seeker his cognomen might be his strongest trump card. At least, he would not have been as radiantly surprised as was and is Hayes Adams, a youth in politics heretofore unknown in either fortune or fame, who woke up Thursday morning to find himself the Republican nominee for auditor and he has already persuaded himself that is as good as an election. Adams was opposed by divers persons of prominence in the party ranks, chief among whom was Scioto county's own Joseph T. Tracy, who having the backing of the state organization and the Cox machine in Cincinnati, together with a personal acquaintance in every township in the state, was expected to be an easy winner. But Adams' name placed him at the top of the list on the ballot, while by the same token Tracy's was down at the bottom. It was a hot day, everybody knew some other body named Adams so the voters just took a shot at his name and let it go at that. And so because of his name Hayes won and for a like reason Joe lost. It is joyful or harrowing, as you happen to look at it, but there is one thing certain, both politicians and common sense call for a change in the primary, either the thing should be wiped out altogether, or the names should be just and proportionately rotated, so the intelligent voter would no longer be able to pick a candidate by the alphabet, instead of for his assumed qualifications. We are not banking on common sense to win, for the most part it has speaking acquaintance, let alone influence, in shaping the election laws of Ohio, but we are laying our money on the politicians. Those of both sides want it and you've noticed that when they get together they always get what they want.

Some rains and some in the right places and where they will do the most good.

THAT LONG PROMISED COOL WAVE--IS IT HERE OR IS IT NOT

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.
O.O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 12.—This is indeed a grotesque plane on which we are living. Hark to the yarn of Ruby the Rushed! Ruby is lady-sounding and bespeaks of a quiet, melting nature, but Ruby is a music wolf. Woolf! Woolf!

He is the lad who writes the music for the burlesque shows, and his name is Ruby Cowan. When the white flannelled lieutenant in strapping gold braid comes on in the burlesque show and looks at the back curtain with the remark: "And so this is Paris. I wonder where the girls are," and at that instant the girls, in tights, come tra-la-ing on—well Ruby writes the music for those girls.

In fact he writes music for twenty six burlesque shows a year and naturally he is bound to become overheated. "They all wait until the last minute," he growled the other day, "and then they think I can turn out music like a butcher turns out sausage. Next year I am going to refuse to work unless they give me three months' notice."

Just think of it—Ruby actually insists upon three months for the writing of twenty-six burlesque shows. The guy who said this was a "cool world" spoke a mouthful.

New York has discovered two old Tertiary fossils, known in past ages as the Polka and the Mazurka. Their bones have been dug up, re-assembled and clothed, and life restored.

It was thought that the Polka and Mazurka were buried with the Virginia Reels and Quadrilles, so naturally the tango worms are excited over the news that they have been revived.

People don't want to live any longer. At least we judge so because a great scientist has said every fellow could live a hundred years by drinking buttermilk and yet there is no increased demand that sends the price of the soured lactal up. But then the scientist is dead, died a month after he made his discovery, aged about sixty.

This month Portsmouth, Virginia, will pass under a city manager. Our frayed straw hat the people will never know they are a bit better governed.

The county is going to get $1,000 from the state repair fund, and the suggestion is that the sum be applied to putting a topping of the comparatively new road material, tarria, on the towpath and the macadam section this side of Luansville. Seems like a mighty good idea.

The county commissioners are going to install electric lights on the Scioto bridge. They are needed.

There are few things that a man can't do if he tries right hard. Just see how long both Bryan and Roosevelt have kept still.

The crisis in the news print is announced to be due in October. If there is any more of a crisis then than right now, may the fates be lenient with the newspapers.

The pulmotor was used on them at a dance given by members of the fashionable West Side Bridge Path Club in the Hotel Majestic, and the old-timers were introduced by Louis H. Chaff, formerly of the Russian Imperial Ballet.

A woman writer, who is practically unknown, got a lot of cheap press agent notoriety by declaring that O. Henry exerted a pernicious influence. It is quite a despicable thing to try to gain a little fame by attacking the dead—especially when O. Henry himself was one of the most lovable of men and never had an unkind word for anyone.

Dr. Waite, one of our most successful young poisoners, caused a lot of trouble the other day in the newspaper offices. He gouged himself in the chest with a splinter of glass while at recreation. The doctor always did have a queer idea of recreation—but he pulled off this stunt just as many of the newspapers were going to press and they had to hold up because it was first reported he had killed himself. As a result, all editions were about ten minutes late.

An effort will be made to revive the ice skating rink again next winter. The reason for this is that a lot of Broadway folks have perfectly good ice skating rinks on their hands with nobody to skate thereon. The Biltmore, which could probably make one pay if any institution could, has closed its big rink and it is rumored will not open it again next year.

There are several other rinks that had to close early on account of the lack of business. But much money is invested and a grand final effort will be made to interest the public. It is going like wildfire in Frisco.

Charlotte will be back at the Hippodrome and the Hip will have another big ice skating scene. This may help a little, but it seems that people would rather dance than skate for the reason that they do not have to have any special costume for dancing and they do for skating.

BedTime Tales
By Clara Ingram Judson

The Wood-Rat's Company
"There!" said Mrs. Willy Wood-Rat with a sigh of satisfaction, "that's a house worth living in!"
"You're right, it is," agreed Willy and he followed her into the snug, warm inside room and they both curled up on the soft moss 'n'ing and went to sleep.
Mrs. Willy was the first to wake in the evening, and she lay there looking around and admiring their handiwork. "This place is really big enough for company," she thought. "For it will be some time before we need so much room for our family. If I see anybody while I am out today, I must ask them to come and visit us, Willy won't care." And with that thought she slipped out for her evening meal.
Hardly had she gone when Willy awakened up. "Well," said he to himself as he looked over the cozy room he had slept in, "this is a pleasant home—quite worth working for. Only it's a pity to waste it on two people. And we won't need it all for many a day, that's certain. If I see anybody I like to-day, I'll ask them for a visit, Mrs. Willy won't mind, I know." And he, too, slipped out for his evening meal.
Now it happened that, although both Willy and his little mate kept their eyes and ears open all the night long, they neither of them saw or heard anybody that they wanted to bring home with them. You know it happens that way sometimes—either you will meet a number of friends or nobody at all. That's the way it was with the wood-rats. Some nights they had jolly times and some again they spent the whole long night alone, just as on this particular night.
As Mrs. Willy crept toward her home at early dawn she thought, "Well, we'll have to company this day, but maybe we'll have better luck next time."

And as Willy took his last drink of the spring and turned toward his new home he thought, "Too bad not to take home somebody as I had planned. I'd like to surprise Mrs. Willy. But I'll try again to-morrow."

They spent the whole long night alone.

Now neither of them once guessed that a surprise was in store for them. And what do you suppose that surprise was? Yes, you have guessed! It was company.

All the whole night long, while Willy and Mrs. Willy had been keeping their eyes open for a guest, little Twitty Bice-mouse had been hunting a home. His home had been destroyed by field hands, and he was hunting far and wide for a place to sleep. And just as he was about to drop to sleep by the roadside he was so tired he hardly cared whether he was safe or not; he happened to spy the new house. And he walked right in and went to sleep.

And when Willy and Mrs. Willy came home—there was their guest. Aren't you glad?

Nobody Knows But Mother
How many buttons are missing to-day?
How many playthings are strewn in her way?
Nobody knows but mother.
How many humbles and spoils has she missed?
How many burns on each little fist?
How many bumps to be cuddled and kissed?
Nobody knows but mother.

How many stockings to darn, do you know?
How many muddy-shoes all in a row?
Nobody knows but mother.
How many little torn aprons to mend?
How many hours of toil must she spend?
What is the time when her day's work shall end?
Nobody knows but mother.

How many ears does a mother-heart know?

How many joys from her mother-love flow?
Nobody knows but mother.
How many prayers by each little white bed?
How many tears for her babe has she shed?
How many kisses for each curly head?
Nobody knows but mother.

Worth Talking About
What are the wild waves saying? As they splash upon the beach, Where bathing girls are straying? I'll bet it's "Pipe the peach!"
—Youngstown Telegram.

With bathing girls upon the beach In one-piece suits, I trow, The wild waves won't be saying much; They're really speechless now.
—Painesville Telegraph-Republican.

The bathing beauty pays no heed To what the waves are saying, For well she knows her lovely form Was fashioned for displaying.

We know what the wild waves would say, If they could only talk, It would be, "Watch Pete and Otto Promenade the Board Walk."

FULTON AHEAD

Columbus, O., Aug. 12.—William D. Fulton, of Newark, is leading in the race for the Democratic nomination for secretary of state, according to figures from eighty counties tabulated today by the secretary of state. Fulton's vote at last Tuesday's state primary in the eighty counties was 35,490. J. Henry Newman, of Columbus, was a close second with 32,172. For Republican nomination for supreme court judge the same counties gave James Joyce, of Cambridge, 83,342, Willis Viery, of Lakewood, 66,667, and Augustus N. Summers, of Springfield, 57,716. Summers may yet win out as he received a large vote in Hamilton county which has not yet sent in returns.

Politicians expressed some surprise today at the large vote polled by John J. Lentz, of Columbus, who opposed Senator Alton Pomerene for re-nomination. In eighty counties Senator Pomerene received 90,699 votes, to 53,970 for Lentz.

"Thrift"
The principle of thrift needs no defense. It is as wise as its benefits have proven the necessity. Successful men of all ages have very strongly advocated its practice. The nation whose people substitute extravagance for economical wisdom soon begin to decay and finally crumble to their dissolution.

The Ohio Valley Bank encourages thrift, accepts savings on account and pay three per cent interest three times each year. Begin now and later come into the full enjoyment thereof.

REVIEW OF

WEEK'S MARKETS

New York, Aug. 12.—Although subject to occasional periods of irregularity, the week's stock market offered a striking contrast to the extreme dullness and stagnation of the preceding period. Sentiment was visibly heartened by the decision of the railway heads to accept mediation, but it was recognized that this important step by no means disposed of the many problems involved in the labor situation.

Railway shares moved to higher levels under lead of heading which featured that group throughout. Even the adverse conditions shown in the government crop report were without material effect upon grangers and associated issues.

Industrials held their ground and in some important instances, made upward progress. United States Steel touching its best price since last January. The decrease in July tonnage reported by the steel corporation was too insignificant to have much bearing on trade conditions which continue promising with an increasing security of raw materials and prospects of further price advances.

Coppers made little response to the brilliant statements of earnings submitted by leading producers, nor were they stimulated by a circular conference indicating additional large orders of refined metal for foreign consumption. Munitions and equipments were appreciably stronger, however, together with the minor group, some of the latter advancing five to fifteen points over recent minimums.

Foreign exchange markets were almost motionless, except for a slight shading of francs and more firmness in marks and lire. International issues in bond division suggested moderate liquidation. A definite details regarding the new British loan or credit are expected during the coming week.

Confusion, resulting chiefly in the railway labor situation accounted for the irregular trend of prices at today's opening. This was indicated by the uneven movement of rails, heading scoring a material fractional gain with losses of as much as 10 points in Union Pacific and St. Paul. Publication of the Marine readjustment plan was followed by a drop of 1 1/2 points in the preferred stock. There were large offerings of U. S. Steel at slight concessions. Munitions and equipments were fairly firm and coppers showed improvement. Heavy trading in the new French notes at 95 featured the bond list.

Terms Germans Barbarians

Paris, August 12.—Sir Edward Carson, in an interview in today's Matin declares that the Germans are barbarians and should be treated as such.

"In peace as in war," Sir Edward is quoted as saying, "the Germans are barbarians and we should treat them as such. Let all the allied governments declare forthwith to the German people: 'Even when we have signed peace we shall not send any diplomatic representative of Germany in our capitals, as long as you Germans shall not have yourselves punished all those who have been guilty of murder, all those who violated those international laws which were set up in the interests of humanity during past centuries.'"

HEAVY DAMAGES NEAR MARIETTA

Marietta, O., August 12.—Rains which assumed the proportions of a cloud burst, caused one death, swept away a number of bridges, houses, and other structures, drowned many head of live stock and damaged crops, the total loss approximating $100,000, in Washington and Monroe counties late yesterday, those who were estimating their losses today, declared. The heavy rains swelled the Little Muskingum river. The fourteen year old daughter of Oth Hill, of Jericho, was drowned in a swollen creek and her mother nearly lost her life in attempting to rescue her.

ONLY CHANCE TO LOWER WHEAT

Chicago, August 12.—Only in the possible piercing of the Dardanelles lies hope for materially lower prices for wheat, according to J. P. Griffin, president of the Chicago Board of Trade. This, he said, would throw open to the consuming nations the three years surplus grain stored in Russia.

Price changes in wheat in the Chicago market today, compared with yesterday's close, were immaterial.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE SAVES THE HAIR

And Keeps You Looking Young

Don't look older than you are. It is just as easy to look younger. While lack of hair or poor hair is not always an indication of age, it is frequently accepted as such.

A person well advanced in years possessing a good head of hair is always spoken of as "well preserved."

Everyone can retain beautiful, luxuriant hair if they make the effort. In almost every instance poor hair or the loss of hair may be traced to the activity of the dandruff germ. Newbro's Herpicide removes the scale-like accumulation and puts the scalp in a perfectly healthy condition. With the elimination of the dandruff the hair no longer drops out. The itching of the scalp stops almost at once.

Newbro's Herpicide is the remedy for which there are many substitutes, preparations claimed to be "just as good." You don't have to accept a substitute. Insist upon having genuine Herpicide. Sold and guaranteed, and your money back if not satisfied.

Glasses Help Headache

Many are the causes which bring on eyestrain and the consequent headaches. Eye headaches are those which no medicines seem to reach; those dull headaches which make life miserable, bring wrinkles to the brow and a dull look to the eyes. Nature never intended the eyes to be over-worked, but if they have been over-worked and taxed beyond their normal strength, then science may show the remedy—glasses. Come here and have your eye glasses scientifically made as there is much satisfaction in good glasses.

Kentucky Carbide Spring Water—Herald of Health—Nature's True Remedy. Scientists tell us that our bodies are composed of only 6 per cent solid matter and 94 per cent water.

A great physiologist said that pain is the prayer of the nerves of pure water. Obviously the amount and kind of water we drink has much to do with the vigor and health of our flesh, muscles and nerves.

The use of Kentucky Carbide Spring Water has become so general and the all most miraculous cures effected by it are fully recognized by the medical profession and the public that we do not hesitate to make the following sweeping guarantee:

If you are afflicted with Bright's Disease, Rheumatism, Liver, Bladder and Stomach trouble, Catarrh of the Head or Bowels and intestinal troubles and will drink Kentucky Carbide Water according to directions for a period of ten days or two weeks, we or the dealer who sold you the water will refund to you all the money you paid for it, if you are not satisfied with the results.

The Kentucky Carbide Springs Company owns and conducts the Carbide Spring Sanatorium at Dry Ridge, Kentucky, where these diseases mentioned previously are treated with wonderful success. For Rheumatism, to be entirely relieved, it is necessary to bathe in the water at the Springs as well as to drink it.

The Hotel, under the new management, has been newly renovated and is "spic and span."

RELATIVES SAFE

Although unable to locate his son and son-in-law, who were at Cabin Creek, W. Va., a few days before the disastrous flood, Reuben Hicks, near Beattyville, Ky., received information Saturday that neither were there at the time the cloud burst occurred. Considerable anxiety was felt by Mr. Hicks when the reports of the flood first reached him, concerning the safety of his son, James Hicks and son-in-law, Roy Rogers. He was preparing to go to Cabin Creek Saturday morning, when he received information that both young men had left that section of the country just a few days before the flood.

Work Suspended.

The rise in the river has forced Dick Thornton and Anderson Henderson to temporarily suspend their work of removing the iron of the old county bridge washed out by the 1913 flood from the bottom of the Scioto. They have sold some of the iron to Otway parties to be used in erecting new buildings there and also to the county commissioners for use as beams in building bridges. Mr. Thornton expects to leave Sunday to join his wife at French Lick Springs, Ind., for a week's stay.

"NOTHING TO EAT; NOTHING TO BUY; IT'S AWFUL"—WOMAN DESCRIBES SUFFERING IN STRICKEN ZONE

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 12.—The narrative of an eye witness to some of the horrifying scenes along Coal river is contained in a letter received by Miss Frances Peaco, who is the guest of her relatives in Huntington. The letter is written by Mrs. William Peaco, of Charleston, and contains the story of her nephew, John Hanley, who walked fifteen miles from Seth, on Coal river, to the state capitol to deliver a petition to Governor H. D. Hatfield, asking aid.

The letter follows:

"Charleston, Aug. 10.

"Dear Frances:

"I received your letter this morning and was so glad to hear from you for I have been so nervous. It seems like every time you go away we have high water. Of course you have read in the papers what distress there now is and so many lives lost. I stood on the river bank yesterday and saw a house go down and then I saw something on fire floating down the river. I suppose it was a house, but it was burning to the water's edge.

"We got word this morning that Seth was wiped off the map, so I have been wild all day.

"Just a few minutes ago John Hanley came walking in. He had walked fifteen miles. He says it's awful. The water didn't get in their house, but every house is washed away, except the company houses.

"There is nothing to eat and no gas. The water was over the porch of the store.

"He says it raised fifty feet in two hours.

"He came with a petition to the governor for aid.

"It washed out the big steel bridge there. He says he is glad he is living for they surely thought their times had come. I can't tell you all he says. It is awful to hear him tell of the hunger and distress.

"Mrs. Woodruff, next door, is almost frantic for she thinks her sister and five children are lost up the river. She was in the very worst part of it. Mr. Woodruff has just come in and he has been up in the flooded district. He could not get up to where his sister lives. John says there are twenty people crowded into their house and they just got a stove up today.

"The flood took over two million feet of lumber out of the yard. The doctor up there lost his fine house and his horse and everything on earth he had. John says it's awful. There is nothing to eat, nothing to sell, everything gone. The other store was washed away.

"He says the only thing left in his store at noon today was two cans of sauer kraut.

Seth is a lumber and coal settlement on Coal river and was the above of about 300 people.

KENTUCKIAN FAITHFUL AT 105 TO DEAD SWEETHEART OF YOUTH

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 12.—To have lived 105 years, to have the full and florid features of a healthy man of 65, to have fought for and against one's country, to have had the martyred President Lincoln as a playmate in adventurous youth, never to have been married, and still so intensely enjoyed many of the pleasures of life, are some of the features of the unusually prolonged career of Charles Carroll Clusker, of this city.

Clusker was born in Madison county, Ky., May 27, 1810. When he was about 16 years old he had an associate of the same age a giant and lanky lad named Abraham Lincoln, who was later to become the president of the country and who was born in the neighboring county of Larue, also in Kentucky.

As Clusker recalls those early days he is not able to bring to mind any indication in the youthful rail splitter of later genius for leadership or greatness of purpose and determination. The youthful Lincoln was like the rest of the country lads of his class and time save in one particular, and that was that he never used a gun or other weapon when he went hunting.

When asked as to what Lincoln went hunting for without a weapon with which to kill game, Clusker frankly stated that he did not know. He simply speculated that Lincoln was adverse to taking the life of even a dumb creature, but yet he seemed to enjoy the excitement of the chase, because he was always of the number in his vicinity when a party went to game in the woods.

Clusker enlisted in Cincinnati in the First Ohio volunteers in 1846. He was in the battles of Cerro Gordo, Resaca de la Palma, Chapultepec and Buena Vista. He came west in 1848, reaching this section through what is now Imperial county, encountering mostly Indians. He devoted his time to mining in Sutter's creek and practically all over the state making strikes at times and at others adapting himself to miner's life. His investments were generally successful, but he never expected that he would live to be a centenarian.

He went back to Kentucky in 1858 and on the breaking out of the Civil war enlisted at Nashville in Morgan's cavalry and served until the fall of Vicksburg. He again came to the west and after roaming through many of the states, fate finds him placidly spending his days here expecting, of course, but seldom thinking of the end.

"Are your children blessed with longevity?" asked the representative.

Clusker's lips twitched; the gleam left his eyes. His voice was faint and he looked aimlessly forward as he replied.

The newspaper man expected the usual nonsense to the effect that he could not get any woman to have him and such meaningless persiflage, and did not ask for a reason. But the reason was forthcoming:

"I was in love with a young lady of 19 and I was 21. She died of tuberculosis. I made a vow that I would never marry—and I have kept my promise. I told the young lady what I was going to do and she said that I ought not to do it. No, I have never married."

"How do you account for your long life?"

The answer was prompt and direct:

"I have always lived in the open air. I have taken care of myself. I am taking care of myself now."

He eats with regularity and sparingly of wholesome food. He enjoys a goblet of beer and a fragrant cigar. He is a member of the San Bernardino Lodge of the First Ohio volunteers in 1846. He has been at all the grand lodges of the Elks in the west and some of those in the east and is the object of reverence and esteem of every member of the order who has come in contact with him.

Barber Arrested

Says Auto Hit Wagon

George Wiget, Scioto Trail, owned the wagon which was struck by the George Jacobs truck on Scioto Trail, Thursday evening. The wagon was occupied by Mr. Wiget, and son Harry, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heisel, when the collision occurred. Wiget's horse was knocked down, the wagon shafts and one wheel were broken.

Mr. Wiget and Mr. and Mrs. Heisel were thrown from the wagon. They landed upon the horse which luckily did not attempt to get up.

Harry Wiget had two upper teeth broke off and one lower tooth knocked loose. Mr. Wiget received severe lacerations and bruises on the right leg near the knee. Mrs. Heisel received bruises on her left limb.

Wiget claims that Jacobs attempted to drive between the wagon and the Geo. Suter automobile. The truck, it is claimed, also hit the Suter machine, slightly damaging it.

TO OPPOSE DEMOCRATS

Colorado Springs, Colo., August 12.—A plan to center campaign activities in the twelve suffrage states and address appeals to the four million women voters of these states for support of the cause of National Equal Suffrage was adopted today at the closing conference of the National Woman's Party. Party workers, assigned to the various states were instructed to oppose the re-election of all Democratic nominees although in keeping with the election policy adopted yesterday, active support will not be officially given the nominees of other parties.

Reports from party managers of the suffrage states, said that organization work was well advanced.

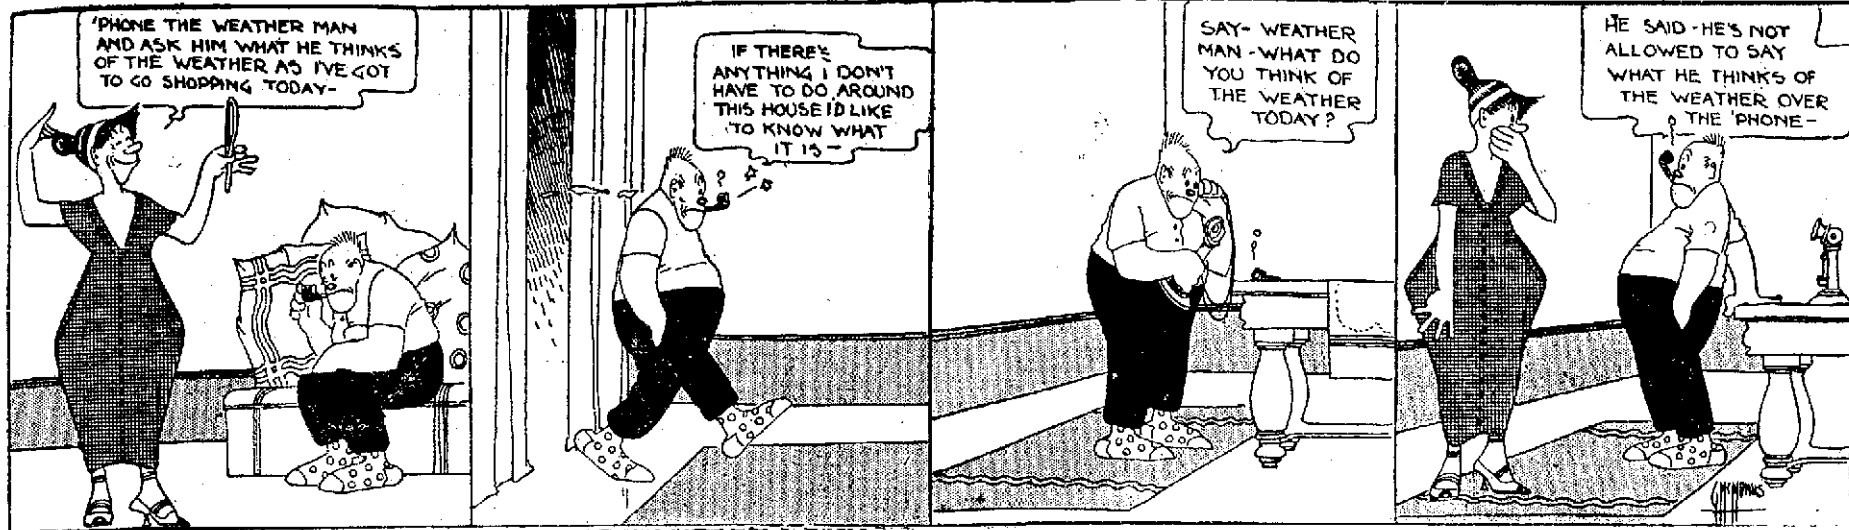

Decline Shown In Cold Storage "Hen Fruit"

Washington, D. C., August 12.—Creamery butter held in cold storage plants throughout the country on August 1, amounted to 87,036,029 pounds, a slight increase from the amount so held last year and eggs totaled 4,797,185, thirty dozen cases, a heavy decline from last year's holding, the department of agriculture today reported.

New York, Aug. 12.—In the belief that the greatly increasing mortality among animals in New York in July, as compared with the corresponding month of 1915, may have some connection with the infantile paralysis epidemic, Dr. Hiram Emerson, health commissioner, today ordered the veterinary surgeons of the health department to determine if any animals had been killed by the plague. The increase is more than 100 percent and is confined chiefly to cats and dogs.

Local German's View Of European War

(Written by Louis F. North, former Editor of The Correspondent.)

Friday, August 11, 1916.
The storm center of the western war front for the last few weeks has been Verdun again where the French have been attacking ferociously since the Germans captured the Chenoy hill on the ridge road to fort Souville. Each one of the daily Paris bulletins has emphasized that the French had retaken and held the Thiaumont works on the ridge but the facts disprove it. Their many bloody attacks have been without appreciable results. Thiaumont and Fleury are yet within the German lines and these instead of being forced back have been advanced some thousand yards nearer to Souville in the Chapitre and Lauffe woods.

Sunday's Paris war report said "South of the Thiaumont works we made some progress." If the French are south of the redoubt, which commands the Fort Souville road, they are not in it. They are in the woods, the same as at Fleury, where according to the German staff they lie in a ravine below the village, from where they have not been able to advance.

The French brought four divisions into action according to prisoners from each of them but up to date have failed to force the Germans out of any of their positions around the fortress and make them retire out of the Meuse Valley. In his latest bulletin General Nivelle only claims that he holds the edges of the Thiaumont works and even that is disputed. The works have been battered to pieces.

On the Somme front the heavy British pressure against the German lines west of Bapaume continues without dealing much less breaking them. Last week the British took a German trench line at Pozieres. Berlin reported on Wednesday that the Germans repulsed it and repulsed heavy attacks at Orville, Thiepval, Bazentin and Mamreps north of the Somme. South of the river French hand grenade attacks at Estrees and Soyecourt were also repulsed.

Berlin says the offensive of the Allies has become a campaign of attrition with the chances largely in favor of the Germans. It states that Peronne is on fire from French bombardment.

In its latest war bulletin the German staff says that the battles on the Somme in a general way have had favorable results for the Germans and that they continue.

From the Volhynian swamps to the Carpathians the Russians are battering with daily furious onslaughts against the German front to break it. Large Asiatic reserves have been put in on the Stokhod along the Kovyl-Sarny road but all attacks have failed so far to bring them much nearer to Kovel, their objective, than they were at the beginning. They got a foothold in the sand hills of Zareze on the left bank of the river but Hindenburg forced them to change front again and all their efforts to recross the river were thwarted. They met defeat at all points. At Karlika the field was strewn with their dead.

On the northern front two new attempts to force a passage over the Duena have also failed, at Derwent and Friedrickstadt.

Kuropatkin, who was to save the situation after Ruskys failure, has also been relieved of command in the Russian Duena department. West of Lutsk in Volhynia the German-Austrian lines have been consolidated and Russian attempts at Vladimir-Volyuskii frustrated.

In the Brody-Tarnopol sector the Russians succeeded in crossing the Sereb but were held at Zolozze where the Austrians in a severe engagement took nearly 1,000 prisoners and several guns. They scored quite a success however in breaking the Austrian lines between Horodenka on the Dniester and Ottynia on the Kolomea-Stanislaw railroad (to Lemberg) and taking Plumaz where Butner achieved his victory in June. The Austrians have fallen back to the Niznioloff-Ottynia line just south of Stanislaw which was established for the protection of the road from Stanislaw to Goricia (Goerz) has fallen after a week of bloody fighting on the Dobrodo Plateau and Montefalco in which the Austrians were at first successful, repulsing different Italian attacks and taking 4,011 prisoners, but they could not hold the bridgehead against overwhelming numbers. They have withdrawn to the Isonzo heights east of the river, which rise from 1,000 to 1,400 feet, the slopes of which have been fortified.

Buzaez and the Dniester, on which Bodmers right wing rests. Petrograd claims that General Letshitzky is flanking it to the west after taking Stanislaw, which the Austrians evacuated without fight.

We see in Vienna war reports that General Koevess, who has been recalled from Albania, has been successfully fighting to keep the Russians off the road to the Jablonica pass into Hungary.

In the Carpathian region of Southeastern Bukovina the troops of Pfauzer-Baltin, which have been reinforced by German contingents, continue in the offensive and are making progress along the Pruth.

It appears that Hindenburg is consolidating his lines around Lemberg and concentrating old and new forces, probably for a decisive battle. Petrograd says "The influence of Hindenburg's name on the Austrians is shown by a considerable stiffening of their resistance."

Hindenburg has been given command of all the forces in the east from the Baltic down to a point west of Tarnopol in Northeastern Galicia. General Boehm-Ermolov's army at Lemberg (Austrian) forms his right wing. All troops south of Tarnopol and the Dniester including Koevess and Pfauzer-Baltin's forces in the Carpathians are now under command of the Austrian Archduke Franz Karl (Crownprince) who made a reputation as commander of the Austrian center in the abandoned Trentino offensive.

Archduke Friedrich, his predecessor, a good but old general, who is charged with dilatoriness, perhaps wrongfully, is subordinated to him. So is Linsingen to Hindenburg and Bothner (Tarnopol region) to Archduke Karl.

Goricia (Goerz) has fallen after a week of bloody fighting on the Dobrodo Plateau and Montefalco in which the Austrians were at first successful, repulsing different Italian attacks and taking 4,011 prisoners, but they could not hold the bridgehead against overwhelming numbers. They have withdrawn to the Isonzo heights east of the river, which rise from 1,000 to 1,400 feet, the slopes of which have been fortified.

The Italians now occupy the entire right bank of the river from the Podgora heights to Plava and to Gradisca, which they took a year ago already.

Of course Rome makes the most of this victory, for political purposes. It is the first real one Cadorna has gained with the help of the Asiatic steam-roller and Japanese munition in Volhynia and Galicia. But his laurels fade before those of the heroic defenders of Goricia in fifteen months of the hardest fighting that has reddened the waters of the Isonzo, against overwhelming odds, in which Italy has lost four armies. And it is a long way yet to Trieste.

In Trient the Austrians hold their own. Between Adige and Brenta they have advanced some.

British reports speak of fighting in Egypt just east of the Suez.

canal near Port Said and the Mediterranean coast. British cavalry led the Turks into an ambush, where of a whole division one-third was captured as they say. The Turkish expedition was undertaken from Quatiah (Oasis) in the desert.

In Berlin stories the fight is represented as a skirmish and attempt to reconnoitre the British positions at Kantara and Romani, a fortified British camp east of the canal.

The Turks marched at night in two columns of each 6,000 men on the old El Arish caravan road in a front of ten miles. Only one column was engaged at Romani. The expedition has proved the feasibility of an advance to the canal and that is what it was undertaken for, Berlin holds, while London says that 14,000 men were engaged, routed and pursued. Constantinople daily contradicts London.

The Turkish war office announces victory on the Persian frontier east of Kermanshah. The Russians were driven out of Kurdistan over the border.

At Bitlis and Musch severe fighting has taken place, Constantinople states. Eleven Russian regiments attacked the Turkish positions on Antuck heights for seven days without success. They finally died leaving 3,000 dead on the field. It appears that the grand duke is in no uncontested possession of Armenia, as he has claimed, nor advancing very fast.

It is certain that the Turks were not routed but are making a stand again. Petrograd has admitted that much since the grand duke's report. A late report of the Turkish war office says: "An attempt of the Russians to advance west of Erzingan has been unsuccessful. On the centre and left wing to the coast no fighting has taken place lately."

On Wednesday last the Turkish war office announced that the Turks have captured Bitlis and Musch. Both are big Armenian towns south of Erzerum in the Lake Van territory, on Grand Duke Nisk's flank. They were taken by the Russians in their Erzerum campaign last spring. Bitlis is the capital of the Kurds, the Turkish horsemen, which are flocking to it by the thousands.

On August 2 an engagement between Austrian and Italian warships took place on the Adriatic coast, following a raid by Austrian torpedo boats on the military establishments at Wolfeto, with success all around, as the Vienna admiralty states.

Lloyds report the sinking of the British steamer Mount Caniston, 3,018 tons, by a German submarine.

They also report the missing of the big freighter Trident, 3,129 tons.

Hamburg papers state that the Hapag and North German Lloyd, Hamburg and Bremen, are building more and bigger trans-Atlantic steamers than ever, the Bismarck of 56,000, Tirpitz 52,000, Columbia 38,000 and Hindenburg 35,000 tons, besides 14 other liners of 12,000 to 18,000 tons.

According to Stockholm advice bread riots occurred in Petersburg on July 30, in which 28 persons were killed and over 100 wounded. They had to be squelched by the military.

The east coast of England and Scotland was visited again by a Zeppelin flotilla this week.

The American war correspondent, Dr. William Bayard Hale, says, the battle on the Somme of July 20-24, with which the French-British drive was opened, was the greatest military action of the war. The Allies put it more than a million men and lost one-fourth of them, mainly by the terrific German machine gun fire.

Count Julius Andrássy, the Hungarian statesman, declares in Magyar Hirlap, Hungary will hold to Austria no matter what comes and Austria will hold through.

Prime Minister Tisza and Count Karolyi have made similar euphatic declarations.

The war cost for France up to date has been 11,000 million dollars. Interest on it amounts to 600 millions a year, with pensions it means 800 millions.

The gold reserve of the German Reichsbank is as large again as that of the Bank of England.

By their own records the British have lost 32,058 officers since the war began.

From January to July saving deposits in Germany have increased by 1,300 million marks.

The "firing" of three admirals of the recently victorious British grand fleet is announced by the London Times.

The Russian Minister of Finance has been authorized to issue new short term treasury notes for 3,000 million rubles. More inflation.

The French Petit Provençal, which considers the war practically won, demands as a first peace condition the banishment of Emperor William to St. Helena.

The late fire in the Putiloff gun works at St. Petersburg caused damage to the extent of $800,000.

O'Donnell Bennett, the war expert of the Chicago Tribune, says the large number of prisoners which the Russians claim to have taken is explained by the fact that they carry off all male inhabitants. Some say Petrograd is too liberal with her oughts.

For many months not a single German paper has reached the United States, thanks to the British censor and holdup of our mails.

The shipment of grain from Romania to Austria which had been stopped during the Russian invasion.

sion of Bukovina has been renewed.

The German war office states that in the battle at Fromelles (three weeks ago 2,741 prisoners, 6 cannons and 24 machine guns were captured.

The German government announces that experiments to make paper out of cornstalks have proved successful. The discovery is of no great value for Germany which does not grow cotton but of immense value to our cotton states, especially at the present scarcity and high price of print. The new material is made like wood pulp.

Since the beginning of the European war the United States have exported arms and munition to the value of more than 523 million dollars, without iron, steel, copper and brass for war purposes to the amount of about 850 million dollars, 646,956 horses, 177,492 mules, 115,387 automobiles and 25,616 motor wheels, by Washington record.

The representatives of the Associated Press, the United Press, the International News Service, the Hearst Syndicate and the larger New York and Chicago papers at the headquarters of the Central Powers have protested to Mr. Gerard, the American ambassador in Berlin, against the suppression, mutilation and delayance of their cable despatches by the London censor, as under these circumstances they are unable to present to the American public a vital half or a true and fair statement of the most important events of the war. Of 72 despatches which the New York World correspondent sent in July only 21 were received.

The war news as at present transmitted from London and Paris to the American press by cable is more misleading than ever. What Berlin has to say is cut down to a skeleton. Only the wireless via Sayville, by which the official German reports come direct, are not censored and doctored.

The Russian empire is the largest country in the world, comprising an area of almost 8½ millions square miles or approximately one-sixth of the land surface of the globe. Its territory is equal to four times the size of Europe and more than double the area of the United States, including all of our island possessions. In population, which is estimated at 175,000,000, it is surpassed only by China and India. This is the colossal Germany has to overcome.

Local Woodmen Carry Off Prizes At Annual Encampment

(BULLETIN)

The Portsmouth Uniform Rank Woodmen of the World, won most of the competitive drills at the annual encampment, Mr. Clemens, Mich., according to a telegram received by the Times Saturday.

The telegram says: "Our company won first class, a field drill, first discipline, third, floor work and banner presented by the board of trade. O. Cassidy won first prize on guard duty."

"ROY McELHANEY."

The following letter was received from the Woodmen of the World who are attending the annual encampment, uniform rank, at Mt. Clemens, Mich.:

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Aug. 10.
Arrived today at 7:30 and found all of Company M, boys in the best of spirits. The Woodmen of the World boys from Portsmouth are confident that they will be first and not worse than second, in the competitive drills which are to start tomorrow.

Captain Leslie Janetzky has Company M on the field twice a day and they are working fine. I inspected the company after mess and found them fit to enter the contests which are to take place tomorrow. The officers and men in camp are as follows: Louis Stoffel, Cleveland, commanding officer and his personal staff; Major H. G. Bradbeck, Columbus; Post Adjutant George Diekel, Cleveland, Assistant Post Adjutant.

There are twenty-five companies from Ohio and Michigan. One band and one drum corps completes the army encamped here.

This is quite a nice little city and the business men and citizens in general are doing their best to make it pleasant for the men when off duty.
In addition to the prizes offered by the Woodmen of the World for field and floor work, the Board of Trade is offering a beautiful banner to be presented as the officers may decide. One of the hotels is offering a loving cup. Company M will take part in exemplifying the ritualistic work some time this week. You can not lose Portsmouth nor company M.

The boys take to camp life and would make splendid soldiers. All in camp are well and send their best wishes to home folks and all Sovereigns of River City and New Boston.

Husband Strikes Wife; Placed Under Arrest

Quite a commotion was created in the vicinity of Ninth and Chillicothe streets about 10 o'clock Saturday morning by reports that John Carley, a teamster, was killing his wife.

When Chief Henry Clark and officers reached the Carley home at No. 907 Chillicothe street, they found Mrs. Carley lying in a helpless heap on the kitchen floor groaning while her husband with blood spurring from a cut on the forehead was beside her on his knees trying to straighten out her legs. Dr. S. S. Halderman had just arrived a moment before in response to hurry calls and found the woman suffering greatly from shock.

Quobie, a 12-year-old son of the household also required medical attention. He was on the verge of hysteria and as he is afflicted with heart trouble grave fears were felt that he might succumb to the shock. He had just reached home as his father struck the mother with a fist blow, knocking her to the floor, and rushed to the telephone to call the police.

The father jerked him away and the boy fainted. A little sister of the boy ran to the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Stewart, shouting that her mamma was being killed. Soon an immense crowd gathered. Mrs. Carley in defending herself struck her husband with some article.

Carley was locked up at the city prison. He had been arrested a week ago for trouble at home but his wife was unable to appear against him, she being badly afflicted with rheumatism.

Is paying for a home. If he is living in a rented house, he is paying for his landlord's house, and when he has it paid for, it still belongs to the landlord, and he starts right in paying for it a second time.

When he adopts the ROYAL DEFINITE CONTRACT LOAN plan and has a home paid for, he owns the house and can quit paying or go on saving his money for some other plan to benefit himself and family.

INTEREST RATE IS REASONABLE

Some people say "I would buy a home but I have not enough to pay cash and the interest is so much." They let the interest scare them. The interest rate is six and seventy-six one-hundredths per cent. The renter pays this to his landlord and a profit besides.

SAVE THIS PROFIT FOR YOURSELF

Why, some people are buying houses through the Royal and letting the renter pay for them. They bring the rent to pay the payments on the loan.

"SAVINGS SAVED SAFELY"

Home of Character No. 162

A English Residence—By John Henry Newson

Upon this exterior which has been made as simple as possible, a true expression of interior is carried out. The windows surrounding the entrance are on the stairs and express a stairway going to the second floor. The entrance is accented by a neatly executed hood over the doorway, while the grade landing door is nicely worked out under the longer slope of the front roof. The building has been carried out in a red velvet brick with a wide raked joint and the gable is carried out in shingles above the first story windows. These shingles are stained brown and the roof is covered with sea green slate. The exterior woodwork is stained brown and the sash are painted white. The general effect is both artistic and novel, and possesses the dignity of a "Character Home."

The house is entered through a vestibule, off of which is a small toilet room and the hall connecting the living room, dining room and kitchen. The stairs ascend from the hall on the front of the house to the second floor. The living room occupies the right hand end, with a large window and a fireplace at the front, balanced on the opposite end with French doors to the porch, part of which is covered, while that part extending across the way in the living room is uncovered. The dining room is provided with a fireplace and a recess for a buffet and has three windows to the rear and also a door out on to the porch, while service to the dining room is gained through a pantry. The second floor has three bedrooms, one of which is the same size as the living room. A bathroom and linen closet are also provided and a sloping porch off of two of the bedrooms on the rear. The attic is divided into three bedrooms and large storage closet.

The floors throughout the entire house are oak, waxed and polished. The vestibule, first floor toilet room and bath room have tiled floors with dove base, marble thresholds and Keene's cement wainscot. The interior trim is birch, with mahogany stain in hall, living room and dining room, and white enamel finish in bedrooms and bath. The floor of the porch and terrace is reinforced concrete laid off in squares to imitate tile, and the porch and sleeping porch is inclosed in glass, which can be removed and screens substituted.

A house of this size and type should be built for from $4000 to $7000, depending on local conditions. No. 162 is 44x28 feet. Regular price of plans $50; of specifications $5. UNTIL FEB. 1, 1917 The Times readers are privileged to 50 per cent discount on price of any HOME OF CHARACTER plans and specifications.

Any questions? Address your letters to John Henry Newson, "Home of Character Dept., The Times." Always give the number of the house. Mr. Newson's answers are free.

Rushing Work On Columbia Addition

Work on the big addition to the Columbia Theatre is progressing rapidly. The plasterers commenced their work the first of this week and as soon as this work is completed, the entire theatre will be elaborately decorated. Even the front will be redecorated in a beautiful combination of rich colors similar to the interior. This popular picture theatre when completed will have over 100 chairs, being one of the largest exclusive motion picture theatres in this section of the state and Manager Tynes has already contracted for many of the largest productions now showing in the big cities, and Columbia patrons can look forward to a season of high-class motion pictures never before dreamed of in Portsmouth.

VICTOR MOORE AND THOS. MEIGHAN IN "THE CLOWN" AT THE LYRIC TUESDAY

For the presentation of "The Clown," which will be seen at the Lyric on Tuesday, with Victor Moore, the celebrated comedian in the title role, the Jesse L. Lasky Company rented an entire circus for three days. This traveling organization happened to be playing near the Lasky studio at the time the picture was being produced and was promptly secured with all its performers and equipment. To secure the audience, the Lasky Company merely announced in the daily papers that the citizens of Los Angeles were invited to be their guests at the performance, and hundreds were turned away. Victor Moore played the role of the principal clown, but his main support was made up of the regular artists of the circus and Thomas Meighan, Horace B. Carpenter, Florence Dagmar and other Lasky stars.

Every man and woman, boy and girl will find heaps of enjoyment in this novel photo-drama, revealing, as it does, a new variation of the eternal triangle—a story showing that beneath the tawdry tinsel of the circus tents a genuine human heart. Come and see this faithful rendition of life under the "big tent."

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY ABOUT ALICE BRADY IN "LA BOHEME"

New York Sun—This is a beautiful picture—uncommonly attractive and artistic.

New York Journal—All the great prima-donnas of the world have portrayed "Mimi" in "La Boheme." She portrays the heart, but not one of the noted players has ever brought to realization a more charming, sympathetic compelling inure than does Alice Brady. Miss Brady reaches the highest altitudes of perfection.

IN SCREENLAND

MADELINE and Marion Fairbanks, better known as "The Thanhouster twins," age fourteen, are two as bright and pretty little girls as you will ever hope to see. They were born in New York, and were educated in the public schools of that city and under the tutelage of private teachers. They were still vurr' small when they went on the stage under the direction of Winthrop Ames. Several years ago the Thanhouster Company prevailed upon their mother to allow them to enter motion pictures. Since then they have been connected with that concern. The twins are so much alike that it's a wise director that can tell them apart. They have light brown hair, hazel eyes, are four feet ten inches tall, and weigh eighty pounds each. When not working, they lead ordinary well-directed lives, playing, reading and amusing themselves with Billy their bee-yew-tiful Angora cat.

You'd have to travel a long way to find better pictures than the popular Lyric offers next week—they don't make them any better, and no matter which one you have to miss it will be a good one, so you had better see them all. Of course the music is always good.

Monday's picture is another of those high-class V. L. S. E. features, "Those Who Toil," with Nance O'Neill as the star—adapted from the throbbing tale, "The Tolders," by Dan Carson Goodman. An epic of love, oil and money, a story that abounds with big thrills, big love, big scenes. It's a "great" picture in six parts. The admission will be ten cents.

Tuesday Paramount is Victor Moore and Thos. Meighan in "The Clown," an unusual story of the eternal triangle. A whole circus was rented to use in this production. The kids will enjoy the circus part of it, bring 'em along.

Wednesday brings the most talked of picture in America, "La Boheme," with Alice Brady as "Mimi." This offering was good enough to stay on Broadway for six weeks and then go back again for another run at prices 35 cents to $1. Remember, it will be shown one day only at a ten cent admission, and you had better come in the afternoon if you possibly can, to be sure of getting in.

Thursday's program will be the ever-loving Billie Burke in "The Shadow of Scandal," and a feature to be advertised later.

Friday's program introduces little Ann Pennington, the three foot beauty from the Ziegfeld Follies. She's already the most popular little actress in the world and in her picture she is bound to be a royal favorite.

Saturday the attraction will be William Russell in "The Highest Bid," a Mutual Masterpiece in five parts. An elaborate society story.

The "Bray Cartoon Pictures" are shown every Tuesday and the "Burton-Holmes Travel Pictures" are shown every Friday.

Columbia of Course for Next Week

Next week the popular Columbia brings a complete program of rare, classy picture productions. Day after day you will find something unusually attractive. In fact the entire week's program is right up to the minute and you just simply can't afford to stay away and miss one single day.

Manager Tynes personally guarantees Monday's Triangle program with Douglas Fairbanks and dainty Bessie Love in "Reggie Mixes In," one of those rare five-part productions from the hands of D. W. Griffith. The comedy Monday, entitled "The Two O'clock Train," with Fay Tincher, is also very much worth while, making a seven reel program that is intensely interesting from beginning to end.

Every picture goes in Portsmouth has been waiting for Bushman & Bayne's latest Metro picture, "The Wall Between." Well be sure and see it on Tuesday, and don't forget that you can only see the latest Bushman & Bayne pictures on the Metro program, and Metro pictures are shown in Portsmouth at the Columbia exclusively. All other Bushman & Bayne pictures are old pictures re-printed.

Wednesday's Fox production is "Blue Blood and Red," a very fascinating five-reel production with George Walsh and Doris Pawn. It is a most interesting story of love and adventure, brimful of life and excitement.

William H. Thompson, whom you will remember as the old uncle in Billie Burke's "Peggy," and Charles Ray, who made such a great hit in "The Dividend," Thursday's Triangle headliner; Hank Mann in "Love's Getaway," is the Keystone riot of fun on the same program.

Everybody loves Mary Fuller. Whatever you do, don't miss seeing her on Friday in "The Strength of the Weak," a superb Bluebird master production, considered by many critics as Miss Fuller's greatest and best effort in motion pictures.

A few weeks ago "Little Mary Sunshine" appeared at the Columbia, and so well pleased was every person who saw it that Manager Tynes has arranged to show it again on next Saturday, and if you miss it after this warning you will be missing one of the greatest pictures ever acted by a little child.

Next Week's Program At The Arcana Theatre.

Monday—"The Scarlet Mask," two-part drama, Victor. "The Jail Bird's Last Flight," L-Ko comedy; and "The Grip of Crime," Big U drama.

ANN PENNINGTON DANCES ON SCREEN

Tiny Broadway Star a Delight in Famous Players "Susie Snowflake."

Ann Pennington, one of the smallest stars who ever created a great sensation on Broadway, is the star in the Famous Players production of "Susie Snowflake" in which this celebrated little Ziegfeld "Follies" star makes her motion picture debut. Though only four feet, 10 inches in height, Miss Pennington has proven one of the most colossal hits of the musical comedy world and is perhaps better known throughout the whole country than any other actress who has ever before been seen on the screen, for her praise has been sung by every visitor to Gotham town for the last three years.

When the great musical comedy success "The Red Widow" went on the road four years ago Miss Pennington won a great personal triumph by her clever work in that play, and she has steadily gained in popularity ever since that time. Captivating, saucy, clever and appealing, Miss Pennington is an ideal screen star for she comes to the motion picture endowed with all the physical requirements of the successful artist, coupled with stage experience.

The Famous Players wisely selected "Susie Snowflake"—there is an illusive charm about the title itself which suggests the diminutive star—as the vehicle for Miss Pennington's debut. This serio-comic tale, which is the Paramount attraction at the Lyric on Friday next week, is a story of musical comedy life.

Miss Gertrude McCoy, star in the Gaumont feature, "The Isle of Love," will go to Washington, D. C. late this month as a guest of a motion picture exhibitor. By that time her "Gates of Divorce" also will have reached the screen from the Gaumont studios as a Mutual picture.

HELL'S HINGES

"Hell's Hinges" is the big attraction secured by Manager Smith for the attraction for Tuesday, August 22. How a strong man wreaked vengeance on a lawless community is told in this Ince Triangle production that has attracted thousands. To add to the reality an entire village was burned.

Bessie Love in Triangle Feature, "Reggie Mixes In."

COLUMBIA MONDAY.

"Many a true word is spoken in jest," says an old adage. And one may amplify the axiom by remarking that expressing the true word through jest frequently "puts it over."

There is a lot of significant truths in "Reggie Mixes In," the new Triangle-Douglas Fairbanks play to be seen at the Columbia Monday, and they hit home without resentment being felt because they are presented in a happy-go-lucky spirit. Persons will accept these bitter pills with a smile because they are sugar coated, and yet benefit by them to the full.

For instance, in every audience that witnesses "Reggie Mixes In" there is bound to be at least one girl who is "stringing" an admirer, one who doesn't love him while she is flattered by his attention; and to her the screen episode of Reggie and his fiancée is going to have a deep meaning.

Nance O'Neill in "Those Who Toil," at the Lyric Monday.

"Those Who Toil," a photo drama classic, with Nance O'Neill in the star role, which is to be seen at the Lyric on Monday, is the Lubin Company's latest impressive contribution to the V. L. S. E. series of premier features.

The presentation of "Those Who Toil," denotes another marked advancement in photoplay productions in keeping with the determination of the Lubin company and its associates in the "Big Four" family to keep its banner in the front.

Described by the author, Daniel Carson Goodman, as an admixture of love, oil and money, the story of "Those Who Toil" provides thrilling glimpses of episodes in which capital and labor renew their ancient strife and, thanks to the ingenuity of the author, obtain a peace that brings honor and contentment to both contestants.

A particular in which the admirers of Nance O'Neill will find special interest is that in the character of Jane Brett, a daughter of the people, this great emotional artist has been furnished with abundant opportunity for the display to the fullest extent of the tense and powerful style of acting that has made her famous.

Miss Gertrude McCoy, star in the Gaumont feature, "The Isle of Love," will go to Washington, D. C. late this month as a guest of a motion picture exhibitor. By that time her "Gates of Divorce" also will have reached the screen from the Gaumont studios as a Mutual picture.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne in "The Wall Between" Columbia Tuesday

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, the crowned king and queen of the silent drama, will be seen here at the Lyric on Tuesday in "The Wall Between," a sensational five act Metro wonder-play. This production is by far the most pretentious feature in which these stars have appeared in their long career on the screen. It is a military masterpiece and affords an excellent opportunity for the staging of scores of thrilling scenes. "The Wall Between" was produced under the personal direction of John W. Noble, of the Metro staff, who is a graduate of West Point and saw seven years' active service as an officer in the United States Army. A typical Metro cast will be seen in this feature and more than two thousand persons appear in the production.

Described by the author, Daniel Carson Goodman, as an admixture of love, oil and money, the story of "Those Who Toil" provides thrilling glimpses of episodes in which capital and labor renew their ancient strife and, thanks to the ingenuity of the author, obtain a peace that brings honor and contentment to both contestants.

MR. REED HAD PLENTY OF EXCITEMENT ON HIS TRIP

Edward T. Reed, president of the Jos. G. Reed company, who returned home Friday afternoon from a three weeks' trip to New York City, has had an experience which comes to but few.

He left Portsmouth during the storm which wrought much havoc at Buena Vista and Wheelersburg, and came back during the heavy rain Friday afternoon. While he was away, he heard the great munition explosion, which proved so disastrous to New York City, and enroute home passed through the Cabin Creek district shortly after the swirling flood had subsided.

In speaking of the explosion near New York City, he said that he was awakened by the sound of breaking glass and the concussion of an explosion. "I first thought that some big building had collapsed; then I decided that the subway had caved in," he said.

Mr. Reed arose, looked at his watch, and found it was about 2:10 o'clock. He looked out of the hotel window and found the streets were deserted. In a few moments he went back to bed, but later got up and dressed. The incessant ringing of a bell, he says, made him think his hotel was afire.

On reaching the hotel lobby, he found that a large plate-glass window had been broken and a burglar alarm had been set off.

He started for a walk down Broadway, when the second heavy explosion occurred. "It seemed to strike me in the face," said Mr. Reed. The second explosion was followed by a series of muffled roars. These must have been the loads of ammunition for they did not make the noise the second explosion did. It was about six miles away.

The dures of the explosions could be seen above the tall buildings. Clouds of heavy black smoke followed in the wake of the flames.

Mr. Reed said he met one gentleman on Broadway, who immediately following the second explosion, threw his hands over his head and fled down the thoroughfare as fast as he could run, crying that "this is a terrible place."

Returning home, Mr. Reed passed the scene of the Cabin Creek cloud burst, in which many lost their lives. He says that Cabin Creek is just a small stream about the size of McCullough Creek, near Brookside. The water had subsided and the two C. & O. bridges which had been carried away by the fury of the water had been replaced with temporary structures. A traction company's huge concrete bridge was carried away by the force of the water.

MARY FULLER IN "THE STRENGTH OF THE WEAK"

AT THE COLUMBIA FRIDAY

After Mary Fuller had completed her work in "The Strength of the Weak," a five-part Bluebird photoplay, she was enthusiastic over the result. To a newspaper man who was interviewing her on the subject of her recent association with the Bluebird photoplay "Our Mary," she said:

"I have been a wayward Italian girl, a society belle, a village sweetheart, a Greek princess, a flirtatious country girl, a Japanese woman designed for death, and fourteen-year old girls. I've played devoted stenographers and ugly ducklings. I've been Mary, the Queen of Scots, the Princess Ama-lie Zuleika, the Caliph's daughter, Mary Tudor and Mary Cuyler, of the "What Happened to Mary?" series. And I've loved them all, every girl and woman I've had to play.

"But better than any of these roles I like the part of Pauline D'Arcy in 'The Strength of the Weak.' I should have loved to have had Florence Roberts' opportunity to originally act the part upon the stage—its possibilities are really wonderful. It requires every imaginable variety of 'shading'—going from grave to gay, and is by far the best emotional role I ever played. 'The Strength of the Weak' will be seen at the Columbia Friday.

LET CONTRACT FOR FINE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

The contract for preparing plans and specifications for a handsome new twelve room brick school building, to be erected on Kinney's Lane, was awarded to Ritter and Bates Friday evening by the Board of Education, at their regular meeting. The building is to be thoroughly modern.

Preliminary plans for the building were submitted by Ritter and Bates, Devoes and Donaldson and John D. Wilson.

The use of the high school auditorium was granted to Prof. E. O. McCowen, county superintendent, for the last week in August. The annual county Teachers' Institute is to be held during this week.

It was decided that a Teachers' Institute for the city should be held this year. The date is to be designated by the Board and Superintendent Frank Appel later.

The resignation of Martha Bailey Smith, teacher at the Highland school was accepted.

W. T. Elder, Zanesville, was appointed a member of the High School faculty at a salary of $900. He is to teach Latin.

The contract for the installation of a heating apparatus in the Lawson street school building, was awarded to the W. J. Cullum Company at their bid of $460.

Miss Clara Simpson, teacher in the Offshore street school, was appointed a member of the board of school examiners to succeed Judge George M. Osborn, whose term expires this fall. Judge Osborn has served in this capacity for the past thirty years and the board was rather reluctant about appointing a successor. A new law requires that the members of the board be selected from active teachers.

The schedule amounting to $330.61 was allowed. All members of the board were present.

Early next week one more block of paving will be opened, which will extend from the Fritz corner to the Masonic hall. The "barn yard" detour still has to be made.

ALICE BRADY IN "LA VIE DE BOHEME," One of America's Greatest Pictures.

"La Vie de Boheme" is heralded from coast to coast as one of the finest pictures ever made. Free, unbiased praise from newspapers all over the country proclaim it a picture in a class of its own. It stayed six weeks on Broadway and is now playing a return engagement in Chicago and other large cities. It's the same story—Alice Brady as "Mimi," is wonderful.

The story of "La Boheme" in the movies is a poignant and touching one, showing life in the Latin quarter with all the bub-

At The Exhibit

"My Partner" is a five part drama, a Mutual masterpiece featuring Burr McIntosh. The story of the play is taken from a play that ran for some time on the road. A western atmosphere prevails in the spirit of melodrama, and there are portions of the story as presented in the picture that are developed in an interesting manner. It is the old, old story of dying love. The young man loved the woman, but after several years he tired of her and refused to marry her.

Besides this big feature Matt and Jeff will be present to make you laugh and forget the heat for fifteen minutes. A rattling good Saturday bill.

At The Arcana

"The False Part" is a two-part Gold Seal drama featuring Herbert Rawlinson, Agnes Vernon, Mrs. Ethel Clark, and Jack Holt. The story deals with moving picture life, much of the locale being around Universal City. Herbert Rawlinson, played by himself, is introduced in his dressing room and is shown later doing his usual days work on the stage. One of his many admirers, with her mother, visits the studio on this particular day.

"Wanted—A Husband" is a Nestor comedy featuring Neal Burns, Betty Compton, Ethel Lynn, Stella Adams and Joe Janecke. The young wife pretends a young lawyer is her husband, during the absence of the real one. This leads to amusing complications. The story includes some interesting scenes taken at Coronado Beach, California.

"His Picture" is a pleasing Imp comedy subject featuring Violet Messereau and Wm. Garwood as a young married couple. The wife dresses as a little girl in order to ally her suspicions regarding the hubby's conduct. She carries out the part effectively.

At The Strand

"In the Hands of the Enemy," tenth chapter of the "Peg o' the Ring" series. Like many of its predecessors, pays small attention to the general plot, but confines itself to brisk, adventurous incidents. Peg saves the circus train from a wreck by stopping a runaway box car and later wins an exciting horse race. The installment closes with her once more in the hands of the Hindu and his gang.

"How Stars are Made" is a two reel L-Ko comedy full of side-splitting laughter. "Her Wonderful Secret" is an Imp comedy. "When the Wolf Howls" a Rex drama, closes the program.

At The Temple

"Damaged Goods," the drama that has upset the country is at the Temple tonight.

The motion picture version is even more remarkable than the speaking stage play. It tells more of the strange inner mysteries of the plot than was possible on the stage.

Richard Bennett and his whole cast of co-workers, all actors of prominence on the speaking stage, enacted the play. The most painstaking and expensive work was necessary to tell this story on the screen with the force it demanded and yet with the delicacy necessary.

The plot deals with the disease which has been held an unmentionable thing for centuries. But it is related so dramatically, so clearly and interestingly that it must interest everyone and offend none.

Taken To Workhouse.

Harold Hoover and Arthur Hicks, the young men arrested for over-driving and abusing a horse belonging to Bridge's livery stable, were unable to raise their fines of $200 and costs each, and were accordingly taken to the Cincinnati workhouse by Sergeant Jack Leeds, Friday evening.

NEW ATTRACTIONS ADDED FOR THE LUCASVILLE FAIR

Ever see a rooster fight? If not, you will have the opportunity soon as there is going to be one staged at the Scioto County Fair, which is to be held at the Lucasville fair grounds next week.

Walter Stanton with his great comedy act "The Giant Rooster," has been engaged for a free attraction. Two shows are to be given daily. This act is considered one of the most unique outdoor entertainments seen in this section. This is but one of the many added attractions at the "Big Fair" this year.

For the benefit of those who desire to drive their automobiles to the fair grounds without the fear of dust or accidents, the directors have taken many precautionary measures. It was announced Saturday by Albert Marting that arrangements had been made to have Scioto Trail thoroughly sprinkled each morning and evening from the terminus of the concrete road to a point above the fair grounds. Other measures to insure safety and comfort are to be taken Monday at a meeting.

Then those who expect to make the trip on trains, a special will be run Thursday only, according to an announcement made by R. H. Scott, passenger agent for the Norfolk and Western railway. The special will be run in two sections, the first leaving at 10:45 and the second at 1 o'clock. The trains will leave the grounds at 5:15 o'clock. The round trip will be fifty cents.

All regular passenger trains, both north and south bound, will stop at the grove.

Many Rumors About Bodies In The River

Reports reached police headquarters late Friday afternoon that the body of a drowned person had just passed the Peables paving brick plant. Police Chief Henry Clark notified Coroner Dr. J. W. Deisher of the report and then started to the river front. Meeting a buggy that was enroute to Fulton, he asked its occupants to notify persons about the upper ferry landing to be on a lookout for the body. He also requested a number of shantyboat men and others at different points along the river to watch for the body, but nothing more was ever heard about Portsmouth.

Reports were current all day Friday about bodies having been seen in the Cabin Creek, W. Va., run of debris, but they proved unfounded. One report had it the bodies of a woman and child had been towed ashore at the foot of Chillicothe street, another that three bodies were caught at the foot of Chillicothe street, another that three bodies were caught at the mouth of the Scioto river, and still another had it that at least seven bodies had been caught at the government dam, just below nothing more was ever heard about Portsmouth.

Those desiring to sell Korn Carnival pennants may make arrangements by calling R. E. Thomas, secretary of the Business Men's Association, phone 108, or E. C. Hood, Anderson's store.

Whitaker-Glessner Company Adds 9th Open Heat Furnace

Part Of Millbrook Lake To Be Used

The Whitaker-Glessner Steel company will build a new open hearth furnace, according to an announcement made Saturday by an official of this huge concern. To do this the company is compelled to fill a portion of Millbrook lake, near the southwest arm and utilize a part of Millbrook park. The present office buildings are to be moved about seventy-five feet north and the ground used in making the proposed improvements. Only two weeks ago, the erection of the eighth open hearth furnace was started. With the latest furnace the company will now have a battery of nine. The new furnace is to have a capacity of 65 tons, increasing the total capacity of this department materially. Besides the installation of the ninth open hearth furnace, two new soaking pits are to be constructed. The contract for the construction of the latest furnace has been awarded to Contractor Alex. Laughlin. Contractor Henry Ruel has been given the contract for the driving of three hundred feet of piling to form the nucleus of the foundation for the ninth open hearth furnace, which is to be constructed parallel to the other eight. Probably no other steel plant in the state is growing as rapidly as the Whitaker-Glessner. Within the past year many improvements have been added to their modern equipment. A new open hearth furnace was completed several months ago. A new mil-

HERRICK MAY BE ASKED TO GIVE VERSION OF REPORTED AGREEMENT

Concerning the statement attributed to James A. White, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in Ohio, that the league has direct personal assurances that Colonel Myron T. Herrick will support the amendment to the Federal constitution prohibiting the liquor traffic, the Cincinnati Enquirer Saturday, carried the following: Columbus, Ohio, August 12.—Just where James A. White, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, left it when he said that the league has direct personal assurances that Colonel Myron T. Herrick will support the amendment to the Federal constitution prohibiting the liquor traffic, the situation rested last night. It is still with Colonel Herrick in Cleveland, who holds the key to what has become in a day the political sensation and mystery of the canvass of 1916. Information comes to the capital that anti-prohibitionists in the large city centers are aroused at the claim of White that Herrick may be expected to give his support to national prohibition. Since they have learned from the same issues of the newspapers which carried the story of White's claim that Herrick refused to clarify the matter, there has been a mystery in connection with the matter. While making no statements yesterday, it is understood Herrick's friends are not of one mind regarding the course that he should take. May Seek Light On Subject An afternoon newspaper of Columbus, which is supposed to be independent in politics, but which has been friendly to Herrick and advocated his cause in the primary, said editorially: "Colonel Herrick will, no doubt, be requested to straighten out the situation at an early date."

On the other hand it is indicated there are those who believe that it will be proper for the senatorial candidate to attempt to "pussyfoot" his way through. The publicity that already has been given the affair is the greatest obstacle to this if the liberals continue the resentment they have expressed at the first blush. No action is likely to be taken by Herrick until he has conferred with some of his friends, remembrance of past experience with the question being a guarantee for careful policies. When asked last night what he had to say about Mr. Herrick's evasion of his claim that he (Herrick) is in an agreement as to prohibition, White said: "I have nothing to say on the subject at this time."

He begged for mercy in police court Saturday saying he was anxious to get back to work on the traction line near Hanging Rock. He was fined $5.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE STANISLAU

IMPORTANT STRONGHOLD FALLS INTO THE HANDS OF THE VICTORIOUS SLAVS

London, August 12.—Stanislaw, next to Lemberg, the most important railway city in Galicia, has fallen to the Russians. General Letchitsky's army which has been hammering at the city's gates for more than a week, taking one fortified barrier after another, captured this objective yesterday in a swift dash across the river Czarina Dystritzia. The city's fall was officially announced by Petrograd last night and is admitted in its statement last night says: "We evacuated Stanislaw without a fight."

The garrison and the army which had been defending the city's eastern approaches escaped. Reaching northward along the Stanislaw-Lemberg railway, the Russian forces are hotly pursued in the direction of Kalitz, another important railway town, fifteen miles to the north. The capture of this town is believed to be only a matter of hours.

Simultaneously with these successes in southern Galicia, the Russians scored further headway in the northeast of the crownland, in the Sereth valley, capturing 245 prisoners. The fact that both the Russian and Austrian officials last night speak of "evacuation," indicates that the Russians have begun their long staged-off retreat along the whole line from south of Brody to the Caucasian foot hills.

NOMINEES FOR TWO OFFICES ARE IN DOUBT

Columbus, O., August 12.—With returns received from sixty-seven of the eighty-eight Ohio counties the results of Tuesday's state primary are practically certain except for two offices. The second nomination on the Republican ticket for judge of the supreme court is still doubtful. Willis Vickery, of Lakewood, has a lead of almost 3,000 votes over August Summers, of Springfield, in the sixty-seven counties but unofficial returns received from the missing counties indicate that Summers may overcome this lead. James Joyce, of Cambridge, is in the lead and will be the other nominee.

There is also a close contest between William D. Fulton, of Newark, and J. Henry Newman, of Columbus, for Democratic secretary of state. Fulton's lead is now 3,000.

tack north of Hem Wood on the Somme front was undertaken last night by the Germans. The war offices statement of today says the assault was checked.

The Germans sustained appreciable losses in their attack. South of the Somme, after a violent bombardment, the Germans attacked La Maisonette, but the French curtain of fire prevented the assaulting waves of infantry from debouching.

During the night the French reorganized their new positions north of the river. Reconnoitering parties entered the wood east of Hem Station where numerous bodies of Germans were found. On the Verdun front two German attacks in the vicinity of Meury were repulsed. The artillery was active in the region of Vaux, Chapire and Chenois.

CLEVELAND MILK WAGON DRIVERS' STRIKE SERIOUS

Cleveland, O., August 12.—The addition of the drivers of the Schneider-Becker Company to those of the Tellings-Belle Vernon Company last night left 150,000 more Clevelanders without milk today, making a total of 450,000 or sixty per cent of the city, affected. So far there has been little violence. State Mediator George H. Miles, and federal mediators are trying to get the drivers to arbitrate but have failed so far.

Yesterday the distributing stations were allowed to sell to all who applied without interference.

E. Hughes. Mr. Hughes addressed an audience here today, leaving for Butte shortly after finishing his speech. The nominee crossed the continental divide early today, entering the far western section of the country for the first time during the campaign. The nominee is scheduled to leave Butte, after a three hours' stay, at 7:35 tonight, for Spokane, Washington, where he will remain until Monday night.

U-BOAT HOLDS UP 6 SHIPS AT ONE TIME; SINKS 3

Havre, Aug. 12.—Six ships were held up at once by a German submarine on Thursday morning. The commander of the submarine ordered the crew of the French steamer Marie to get into boats and then sank the vessel with bombs in view of the crews of the other ships.

The Norwegian steamers Credo and Soro were next sent to the bottom, each vessel going down in ten minutes. The other three were allowed to continue their voyages after being searched and their papers examined. The crews of the three sunken ships were picked up by the Danish steamer Robert and landed at Havre on Friday morning.

EPIEDMIC SPREADS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 12.—A foundation for a thorough scientific investigation of the cause, means of transmission and cure of infantile paralysis has been projected by the Philadelphia Pediatric Society, it was announced today. An eminent pathologist who was associated in the experiments at the Rockefeller Institute has volunteered his services provided an equipped laboratory is placed at his disposal and urgent pleas are being sent to wealthy Philadelphians to furnish the necessary funds. Four deaths from the disease and 16 new cases were reported here for the 24 hour period ending last midnight. In the state outside of Philadelphia 15 new cases were returned.

DRIVE OF ALLIES SEEKS TO BRING ROUMANIA INTO WORLD CONFLICT

London, August 12.—A heavy battle is raging near the Greco-Syrian frontier, with the allied troops of Saloniki attacking the Bulgarians. Already the allies have captured the station of Doiran and the high ground nearby. The attacks are believed here to be the preliminary of a great offensive of the 800,000 men who have been gathered at Saloniki. The last strength of the Russians will be brought against the central powers and their Balkan allies. The drive has a two-fold purpose, to ward off the invaders and to bring Roumania into the war on the side of the allied steamroller in the Balkans. The last link in the offensive on all fronts is completed. This news of the battle was received here in an official statement from Paris, which announced the occupation of Doiran Station. Berlin, for the first time in weeks, mentions the Balkans, reporting the repulse of "sham attacks." A great artillery engagement is under way, according to a dispatch from the Central News. French, English and Serbians are taking part in the new campaign, according to word from the front.

Fear Paper Famine May Throw Printers Out Of Employment

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 12.—The danger that thousands of printers may be thrown out of work because of the high cost of white paper was said to be a question seriously concerning the delegates to the sixty-second convention of the International Typographical Union which begins here next Monday. The delegates began arriving in large numbers today. The convention will hold a brief session on Monday for organization and appointments of committees. Adjournment will be taken for the remainder of the day so that the delegates and

DEADLOCK CONTINUES IN RAILWAY CONTROVERSY

New York, Aug. 12.—A settlement of the differences between the managers of 225 railroads and their 400,000 employees is understood today to depend upon whether the representatives of the four brotherhoods will consent to a new form of arbitration. The brotherhood men when they assembled again this morning for another conference with the United States Board of mediation and conciliation, expected the mediators to make a proposition involving this plan.

The method suggested is to increase the membership of the board of arbitration defined by the Newlands act. The idea is to give each of the brotherhoods a representative on the proposed arbitration, together with four members representing the railroads and four neutrals, making the total membership twelve instead of six.

While the labor men declare they are firmly opposed to arbitration on the ground that the decisions of the arbitrators in the past have not given the men the benefits for which they contended, they refrained from commenting upon new proposals until formally presented.

Judge W. L. Chambers, one of the mediators, said he had not given up hope that the board might compromise difficulties. The chance of averting the threatened strike by any other means than arbitration, is generally regarded as small.

ANIMALS MAY BE PLAGUE VICTIMS

New York, Aug. 12.—In the belief that the greatly increasing mortality among animals in New York in July, as compared with the corresponding month of 1915, may have some connection with the infantile paralysis epidemic, Dr. Haven Emerson, health commissioner, today ordered the veterinary surgeons of the health department to determine if any animals had been killed by the plague. The increase is more than 100 per cent and is confined chiefly to cats and dogs.

ENGAGE IN RUNNING FIGHTS DAILY WITH MEXICAN OUTLAWS

Chihuahua City, Mex., Aug. 12.—Reports from the forces of General Cavazos and Colonel Zuazua in Northern Durango to General Trevino today indicate that they are engaging in an almost continuous running fight with the bands under Martin Lopez and that the bandits lose men in each skirmish, while the government has lost but few.

General Trevino pointed out that a number of prominent outlaw leaders have been killed in the last few weeks, and said that every effort is being made to exterminate the leaders, it being realized that without their commanders it will be an easy matter to subjugate the bandits.

Local municipal elections, the first step toward restoration of full civil government in this state, have been set for the third Sunday in September.

Officials Disappointed Over Failure To Extend Relief To War Refugees

Washington, D. C., August 12.—The uncompromising attitude of European belligerents in the negotiations through which the United States had hoped to extend relief work in the war zones is causing keen disappointment among officials. Three new notes on the subject were before the state department today, but none of them appeared to open any new avenue for continuation of efforts to aid the starving and homeless of the war swept areas.

Great Britain and Austria again have declared in vigorous terms their unwillingness to concede from the regulations which have operated to exclude American relief supplies from Poland and Serbia. Turkey, in a note refusing to permit a neutral commission to undertake to feed and clothe the war sufferers in Syria, apparently has endeavored to forestall any further humanitarian efforts in that quarter.

At the same time officials are confronted with a deadlock in the negotiations for permission to pass Red Cross supplies through the allied blockade lines into Germany and Austria, and there have been intimations that Belgium, now fed and clothed almost wholly by American charity soon might feel the weight of new restrictions dictated by the military necessities of the great powers whose armies occupy her soil.

Gloomy as the outlook is, officials have not abandoned hope that a more humane view may eventually be impressed upon the belligerents.

Report Federal Probe On Wheat Manipulation

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Reports that a federal investigation of an alleged attempt to manipulate the wheat market and raise prices had been under way for some time, led to a statement on the subject early today by United States District Attorney Charles F. Cline. He said that whatever action the government might be taking in the matter necessarily must be kept secret.

AS TO THE DOUBLE CROSS

Politics is surely a queer game, that is the kind of politics some men play. In the campaign preceding the primary of this week it was the common talk that the liquor interests generally were behind the candidacy of Myron T. Herrick for senator. Why this should be was not so apparent, since the contestants avoided any mention of the liquor in all their numerous gabfests. However, it was assumed as the anti-saloon set up claim that it defeated Herrick for re-election as governor, it would just naturally be against him again, and, of course, it stood the liquor people to be for anybody the anti-saloon league was against. But that is right where somebody blundered, through the cleverness of the game. For now comes one Rev. James A. White, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League and sets forth that the said league has Myron T. Herrick's solemn pledge and covenant that, if elected senator, he will take his orders therefrom and vote for national prohibition measures. So much was limited by Harry M. Daugherty, when he said, that owing to certain conditions the dry element had given his opponent a support that was altogether out of the calculations of the campaign dope, but still White's claim has stirred the political camps of the state as nothing else has in many a day. At that it isn't so much of a surprise, as the politicians have taken to recalling that it was his "shiftness," his propensity jump from one side to another, without rhyme or reason, that worked his undoing as governor. But at that the White pronouncement puts things in a pretty pickle and the liquor interests will be puzzled as to where "they are at."

So far Herrick has refused to express himself on the White statement, saying that he has not seen it and therefore he is in no position to offer comment on it and concluding vaguely as well as unsatisfactorily that he knows nothing about the matter. Which may mean he knows nothing about the statement, or any alleged pledge of his.

THE PARTY AND THE CANDIDATE

It is a most peculiar situation presented to the Prohibition party by its candidate, J. Frank Hanly. Like most minority parties, it has got the habit of running "hog wild" in its platform, in an effort to catch votes, and so declares in favor of most every governmental fad that is devised, and it is here that its candidate feels impelled to part company with it. So he announces that he repudiates its declaration in favor of the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

Mr. Hanly says he has always opposed these things, he repudiates them now and if elected and they came to him in the form of laws he would veto them. Never has he trimmed his views for political effect or office and he isn't going to do so now. That is brave and manly in him, but it makes a novel and trying situation, indeed, for the party and the men who nominated him, especially as it comes after the convention that named him and adopted the platform, has adjourned and is no longer existent. We can also say it is refreshing. And yet, we can't say so much more of a novelty than the repudiation and elaboration of his party platform by Hughes who avows his favor of federal female suffrage when his party puts the matter up to the individual states.

People don't want to live any longer. At least we judge so because a great scientist has said every fellow could live a hundred years by drinking buttermilk and yet there is no increased demand that sends the price of the soured lacteal up. But then the scientist is dead, died a month after he made his discovery, aged about sixty.

This month Portsmouth, Virginia, will pass under a city manager. Our frayed straw that the people will never know they are a bit better governed.

The county is going to get $7,000 from the state repair fund, and the suggestion is that the sum be applied to putting a topping of the comparatively new road material, tarvia, on the towpath and the macadam section this side of Lucasville. Seems like a mighty good idea.

The county commissioners are going to install electric lights on the Scioto bridge. They are needed.

There are few things that a man can't do if he tries right and. Just see how long both Bryan and Roosevelt have kept still.

Some rains and some in the right places and where they will do the most good.

The crisis in the news print is announced to be due in October. If there is any more of a crisis then than right now, may the fates be lenient with the newspapers.

Matty says he knows just exactly what is the matter with the Cincinnati Reds, and it is plain enough why they can't play games. Now, just think of paying even the greatest pitcher that ever played ball $20,000 a year for that. Why the captain of the Reds says he can't play just told us the reason why they couldn't play was because they couldn't play three cornered cat, let alone base ball, which he avers is some game, believe me.

What is soaring clear out of sight. Now is a good time to sell.

THAT LONG PROMISED COOL WAVE--IS IT HERE OR IS IT NOT

SOMETHING IN A NAME

Shakespeare once expressed the conviction that there was nothing in a name, putting it in the sweet conclusion that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet. But then they didn't know anything about the primary in the days of the immortal bard. Had they his keen wit it would have been quickly decided that to an office-seeker his cognomen might be his strongest trump card. At least, he would not have been as rudely surprised as was and is Hayes Adams, a youth in politics heretofore unknown in either fortune or fame, who woke up Thursday morning to find himself the Republican nominee for auditor and he has already persuaded himself that as good as an election. Adams was opposed by divers persons of prominence in the party ranks, chief among whom was Scioto county's own Joseph T. Tracy, who having the backing of the state organization and the Cox machine in Cincinnati, together with a personal acquaintance in every township in the state, was expected to be an easy winner. But Adams' name placed him at the top of the list on the ballot, while by the same token Tracy's was down at the bottom. It was a hot day, everybody knew some other body named Adams so the voters just took a shot at his name and let it go at that. And so because of his name Hayes won and for a like reason Joe lost. It is joyful or harrowing, as you happen to look at it, but there is one thing certain, both politicians and common sense call for a change in the primary, either the thing should be wiped out altogether, or the names should be just and proportionately related, so the intelligent voter would no longer be able to pick a candidate by the alphabet, instead of for his assumed qualifications. We are not banking on common sense to win, for the most part it has speaking acquaintance, let alone influence, in shaping the election laws of Ohio, but we are laying our money on the politicians. Those of both sides want it and you've noticed that when they get together they always get what they want.

The people who say the Bull Moose party is dead are no blood kin to those who allege Villa is dead. They are not even alike. One kind knows a thing when they see it and the other is just lying.

And those tailors decree there are hereafter to be no freak styles. Well, let it go at that. What is the use of mere man trying to compete anywhere with fair woman.

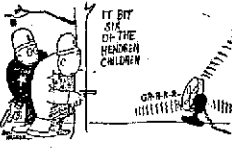

They are all just alike. Harry Daugherty, "Put" Sandles and Tom Beatty all "announce" publicly they will support their successful opponents. What they say privately these newspapers refuse to print.

Some people have conceived a horrible thirst, reading that the Alabama option sleuths have seized seventy thousand dollars worth of real liquor that they don't know what to do with.

Really, does Candidate Hughes hope to win on his shibboleth of "Blame everything against Wilson."

ELECTRIC FANS

An electric fan could not set up its cage and jump off the mantel and cut a man's arm off if it wanted to. But it does not want to. Perhaps it does not even know it could. It could run around and chew up the window curtains and scratch all the plastering off the wall and go out into the street and scare old ladies and terrify pedestrians and frighten little children into hysterics, and slash up automobile tires and hack up the front lawn and hurt a lot of policemen when they came to arrest it, but somehow it never thinks of such things. It just sits on the mantel and purrs, and the worse the heat does is to give out a soft hum now and then when anyone is impolite enough to turn his back.

This just shows how man controls the elements. Fire, water, wild animals, horses, and electric fans are his servants. Man has gone down to the middle of the earth and dug up steel, and heat it out into thin sheets and sharpened it like a razor and put it into a cage and charged it with the west wind, and made the electric fan, and told it to sit on the mantel and turn over and over real fast and cool up the room.

How cheerful is an electric fan in the home, buzzing happily, with the family sitting around on a hot summer evening, counting the revolutions of the wheel and listening to father's wonderful stories of the pioneer days when palm-leaf fans were run by hand, a process in which there was little profit, for the fact that the exertion involved aroused much more heat than the fan could begin to dispel. And at this the children laugh and go over and stick their fingers in the wonderful new electric fan--were it not for mother's grabbing them by the back just in the nick of time and explaining that the electric fan is so delicate enough it left alone, but very vicious and bloody if you cross it.

BedTime Tales

The Wood-Rat's Company

"THERE!" SAID Mrs. WILLY WOOD-RAT with a sigh of satisfaction, "that's a house worth living in!"

"You're right, it is," agreed Willy. "You've followed her into the snug, warm inside room and they both carried up on the soft moss 'moss' and went to sleep."

Mrs. Willy was the first to waken in the evening, and she lay there looking around and admiring their handiwork. "This place is really big enough for company," she thought, "for it will be some time before we need so much room for our family. I see anybody while I am out today, I must ask them to come and visit us, Willy won't care." And with that thought she slipped out for her evening meal.

Hardly had she gone when Willy wakened up. "Well," said he to himself as he looked over the cozy room he had slept in, "this is a pleasant home--quite worth working for. Only it's a pity to waste it on two people. And we won't need it all for many a day, that's certain. If I see anybody I like today, I'll ask them for a visit, Mrs. Willy won't mind, I know." And he, too, slipped out for his evening meal.

Now it happened that, although both Willy and his little mate kept their eyes and ears open all the night long, they neither of them saw or heard anybody that they wanted to bring home with them. You know it happens that way sometimes--either you will meet a number of friends or nobody at all. That's the way it was with the wood-rats. Some nights they had jolly times and then again they spent the whole long night alone, just as on this particular night.

As Mrs. Willy crept toward her home at early dawn she thought, "Well, we'll have no company this day, but maybe we'll have better luck next time."

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O.O.MINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 12--This is indeed a grotesque plane on which we are living. Harsh to the yams of Ruby the Rushed Ruby is lady-sounding and bespeaks of a quiet, melting nature, but Ruby is a music wolf. Woof! Woof!

He is the lad who writes the music for the baroque shows, and his name is Ruby Cowan. When the white flannelled lieutenant in strapping gold braid comes on in the burlesque show and looks at the back curtain with the remark: "And so this is Paris. I wonder where the girls are," and at that instant the girls, in tights, come tripping in--well Ruby writes the music for those girls.

In fact he writes music for twenty six burlesque shows a year and naturally he is bound to become over-located. "They all wait until the last minute," he growled the other day, "and then they think I can turn out music like a butcher turns out sausage. Next year I am going to refuse to work unless they give me three months' notice."

Just think of it--Ruby actually insists upon three months for the writing of twenty-six burlesque shows. The guy who said this was a "cool wolf!" spoke a mouthful.

New York has discovered two old Terpsichorean fossils, known in past ages as the Polka and the Mazurka. Their bones have been dug up, re-assembled and clothed, and life restored.

Wanted A Drink

A merchant was visited by a friend and customer from the country whom he entertained by a visit to the theater. HUSBAND STRIKES WIFE, PLACED UNDER ARREST

Quite a commotion was created in the vicinity of Ninth and Chillicothe streets about 10 o'clock Saturday morning by reports that John Carley, a teamster, was killing his wife.

When Chief Henry Clark and officers reached the Carley home at No. 907 Chillicothe street, they found Mrs. Carley lying in a helpless heap on the kitchen floor groaning while her husband with blood spouting from a cut on his forehead was beside her on his knees trying to straighten out her legs. Dr. S. S. Halderman had just arrived a moment before in response to hurry calls and found the woman suffering greatly from shock.

Quobie, a 12-year-old son of the household also required medical attention. He was on the verge of hysteria and as he is afflicted with heart trouble grave fears were felt that he might succumb to the shock. He had just reached home as his father struck the mother with a fist blow, knocking her to the floor, and rushed to the telephone to call the police. The father jerked him away and the boy fainted. A little sister of the boy ran to the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Stewart, shouting that her mamma was being killed. Soon an immense crowd gathered. Mrs. Carley in defending herself struck her husband with some article.

Carley was locked up at the city prison. He had been arrested a week ago for trouble at home but his wife was unable to appear against him, she being badly afflicted with rheumatism.

Woman's Party Is Pledged To Support Hughes For President

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 12.—National Woman's Party leaders, following yesterday's action in adopting an election policy for the coming presidential campaign were preparing today to scatter their forces throughout 12 equal suffrage states.

In accordance with the plans agreed upon, the campaign workers were instructed to use their best efforts to prevent the reelection of President Wilson, and in states where women are entitled to vote for members of congress to work for the defeat of Democratic candidates.

The party members are pledged to oppose the Democratic party so long as that party neglects to bring about the enactment of the Susan B. Anthony federal amendment.

Twenty-five Colorado women, former Democrats, now affiliated with the woman's party, are awaiting a reply to their message last night to President Wilson urging him to secure the enactment of the federal amendment. Others members of the conference declared an intention to wage an active campaign in support of Charles Evans Hughes.

Ring Finger the Weakest.
The finger on which the wedding ring is worn is anatomically the weakest of the ten. Planners have to give the third finger twice as much drill as the others. Place both hands together, palms facing, and all but the middle fingers stretched, you will be able to separate all couples easily but the third finger. The anatomical explanation of this weakness is that the tendon of the extensor muscle of the third finger is attached by a cross slip to that of the second and sometimes of the fourth. This slip is sometimes cut in violinists, who need all the freedom and power they can get. (Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.)

MANY RUMORS ABOUT BODIES IN THE RIVER

Reports reached police headquarters late Friday afternoon that the body of a drowned person had just passed the Peables paying brick plant. Police Chief Henry Clark notified Coroner Dr. J. W. Daehler of the report and then started to the river front. Meeting a buggy that was enroute to Fullerton, he asked his occupants to notify persons about the upper ferry landing to be on a lookout for the body. He also requested a number of shantboat men and others at different points along the river to watch for the body, but nothing more was ever heard about the foster.

Reports were current all day Friday about bodies having been seen in the Cabin Creek, W. Va., run of debris, but they proved unfounded.

One report had it the bodies of a woman and child had been tossed ashore at the foot of Chillicothe street, another that three bodies were caught at the foot of Chillicothe street, another that three bodies were caught at the mouth of the Scioto river, and still another had it that at least seven bodies had been caught at the government dam, just below Portsmouth.

LET CONTRACT FOR FINE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

The contract for preparing plans and specifications for a handsome new twelve room brick school building, to be erected on Kinney's Lane, was awarded to Ritter and Bates Friday evening by the Board of Education, at their regular meeting. The building is to be thoroughly modern.

Preliminary plans for the building were submitted by Ritter and Bates, Devoss and Donaldson and John D. Wilson.

The use of the high school auditorium was granted to Prof. E. O. McCowan, county superintendent, for the last week in August. The annual county Teachers' Institute is to be held during this week.

It was decided that a Teachers' Institute for the city should be held this year. The date is to be designated by the Board and Superintendent Frank Appel later.

The resignation of Martha Bailey Smith, teacher at the Highland school was accepted.

W. T. Eldler, Zanesville, was appointed a member of the High School faculty at a salary of $900. He is to teach Latin.

The contract for the installation of a heating apparatus in the Lawson street school building was awarded to the W. J. Cullum Company at their bid of $460.

Miss Clara Simpson, teacher in the Offene street school, was appointed a member of the board of school examiners to succeed Judge George M. Osborn, whose term expires this fall. Judge Osborn has served in this capacity for the past thirty years and the board was rather reluctant about appointing a successor. A new law requires that the members of the board be selected from active teachers.

The schedule amounting to $330.61 was allowed. All members of the board were present.

MR. REED HAD PLENTY OF EXCITEMENT ON HIS TRIP

Edward T. Reed, president of the Jos. G. Reed company, who returned home Friday afternoon from a three weeks' trip to New York City, has had an experience which comes to but few.

He left Portsmouth during the storm which wrought much havoc at Buena Vista and Wheelersburg, and came back during the heavy rain Friday afternoon. While he was away, he heard the great munition explosion, which proved so disastrous to New York City, and enroute home passed through the Cabin Creek district shortly after the swirling flood had subsided.

In speaking of the explosion near New York City, he said that he was awakened by the sound of breaking glass and the concussion of an explosion. "I first thought that some big building had collapsed; then I decided that the subway had caved in," he said.

Mr. Reed arose, looked at his watch, and found it was about 2:10 o'clock. He looked out of the hotel window and found the streets were deserted. In a few moments he went back to bed, but later got up and dressed. The incessant ringing of a bell, he says, made him think his hotel was afire.

On reaching the hotel lobby, he found that a large plate-glass window had been broken and a burglar alarm had been set off.

He started for a walk down Broadway, when the second heavy explosion occurred. "It seemed to strike me in the face," said Mr. Reed. The second explosion was followed by a series of muffled roars. These must have been the clouds of ammunition for they did not make the noise the second explosion did. It was about six miles away.

The flames of the explosion could be seen above the tall buildings. Clouds of heavy black smoke followed in the wake of the flames.

Mr. Reed said he met one gentleman on Broadway, who immediately following the second explosion, drew his hands over his head and fled down the thoroughfare as fast as he could run, crying that "this is a terrible place."

Returning home, Mr. Reed passed the scene of the Cabin Creek explosion, in which many lost their lives. He says that Cabin Creek is just a small stream about the size of McCullough Creek, near Brookside. The water had subsided and the two C. & O. bridges which had been carried away by the fury of the water had been replaced with temporary structures. A traction company's huge concrete bridge was carried away by the force of the water.

NEW ATTRACTIONS ADDED FOR THE LUCASVILLE FAIR

Pike Will Be Sprinkled Entire Distance During The Fair Days

Ever see a rooster fight? If not, you will have the opportunity soon as there is going to be one staged at the Scioto County Fair, which is to be held at the Lucasville fair grounds next week.

Walter Stanton with his great comedy act "The Giant Rooster," has been engaged for a free attraction. Two shows are to be given daily. This act is considered one of the most unique outdoor entertainments seen in this section. This is but one of the many added attractions at the "Big Fair" this year.

For the benefit of those who desire to drive their automobiles to the fair grounds without the fear of dust or accidents, the directors have taken many precautionary measures. It was announced Saturday by Albert Martin that arrangements had been made to have Scioto Trail thoroughly sprinkled each morning and evening from the terminus of the concrete road to a point above the fair grounds. Other measures to insure safety and comfort are to be taken Monday at a meeting.

Then those who expect to make the trip on trains, a special will be run Thursday only, according to an announcement made by R. E. Scott, passenger agent for the Norfolk and Western railway. The special will be run in two sections, the first leaving at 10:45 and the second at 1 o'clock. The trains will leave the grounds at 5:15 o'clock. The round trip will be fifty cents.

All regular passenger trains, both north and south bound, will stop at the grove.
